Explanations.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the readings during the period for the past [illegible]. The reading of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub divisional station for the period in question during the past [illegible] of the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

CALCUTTA, the 26th July 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 22ND OF JULY 1887.

At the close of the previous week a small cyclonic storm, which had passed through South Bengal between Calcutta and Saugor Island, had moved away through the Central Provinces and Central India, and on the morning of the 15th, that is the last day of the previous week, it was near Hoshungabad. On the morning of the 16th the small storm had reached Hyderabad in Sind, and was disappearing across the Indus, while on the 17th it had disappeared over Beluchistan. The storm which appeared in South Bengal on the 12th had therefore a life history of from five to six days, and it travelled over a distance of from 1,500 to 1,600 miles quite unbroken; the direction of its movement was a little to the north of west. The indraught towards this storm had ceased to affect Bengal at the close of the previous week, and the most noticeable feature in the weather on the first day of the present week was the setting in of a westerly wind current over the greater part of the province, which drove back the easterly and south-easterly wind current which had previously been blowing. A slight area of comparatively low pressure was also developed on this day over the eastern part of South Behar. Conditions on this day were not favourable for heavy rain, and only light and local falls were reported over the greater part of the province. On Sunday, the 17th, the weather conditions over Bengal became extremely abnormal in the fact that at practically all stations in the province wind was north-westerly. This was apparently brought about by the unusual strength of the westerly Bombay current, which entirely drove back the very feeble monsoon current which was blowing from the Bay of Bengal, and thus practically at all stations from Buxar down to Negapatam winds became westerly and north-westerly. Under these circumstances, a short break in the rains became established, and on this day practically the whole province became rainless. Such abnormal conditions as these however, could not continue long, and on the Monday the Bay of Bengal current commenced to strengthen slightly, and in South Bengal there were distinct indications of interaction between the two opposing wind currents, which gave rise to somewhat numerous and heavy local showers, but it was evident that the southerly winds would gradually drive back the abnormal north-westerly winds. On Monday, the 19th, the advancing southerly current had made further progress, and at all, except a few stations in the west of Behar and Chutia Nagpur, winds had become southerly and south-easterly. The amount of interaction became larger, and in North Bengal heavy rain fell, but elsewhere rainfall was light and local. At the same time on this day a rapid fall of pressure took place in the north-west angle of the Bay, the fall at False Point being 0·127″. A distinct, but feeble barometric depression was thus formed, the centre of which was to the south-east of False Point, and which was accompanied by a feeble cyclonic circulation of winds. This small depression has been the principal feature in the meteorology of the remainder of the week, and it has continued to exist without intensifying to any material extent, and without any movement beyond a slight shifting of the centre from day to day. On Wednesday, the 20th, the centre of the depression was apparently to the south of Saugor Island; on the 21st, the centre of the wind circulation was between Saugor Island and Balasore; and on Friday, the 22nd, the centre of the wind circulation was between Balasore and False Point. In the rear of the depression a strong monsoon current has been blowing, but the current has been deflected by the existence of this depression, and the monsoon winds have thus to a great extent been prevented from flowing over Bengal, and thus, during the existence of this depression, rainfall has been to a great extent absent from the greater part of Bengal, except the area immediately affected by the small storm.

Pressure—Which was at the close of the previous week rather largely above the normal, the average excess being rather more than a tenth of an inch, has fallen almost steadily during the first five days of the present week, though on the last two days pressure again commenced to rise. At the close of the week pressure was almost normal over a considerable part of the province, while it was below the normal at the stations affected by the depression, and above it at many of the stations in the north and west of the province. The mean pressure for the week has therefore been above the normal in all districts, the excess varying for 0·075″ at Hazaribagh to one of 0·008″ at False Point.

Temperature—Owing to the general deficiency of rainfall, has been somewhat above the normal in all districts; the general excess is, however, small, and is considerably less than a degree.

Rainfall—Has been largely below the normal in all districts except Orissa and South-West Bengal, which have been to a certain extent under the influence of the depression above described. In Orissa the fall is slightly in excess of the average amount, while in South-West Bengal, the rainfall is only slightly below the normal for the week. Thus in South-West Bengal an average fall of 2·10 inches has been received, the normal fall being 2·40 inches; in Orissa the average fall has been 2·90 inches and the normal is 2·74 inches, so that both these districts have received good falls of rain. In East Bengal the average fall has been 2·02 inches, against a normal of 3·45 inches, and this district has thus received little more than half the usual fall. In North Bengal the actual fall has averaged 1·32 inches against 3·08 inches, and in Chutia Nagpur 1·30 inches against the normal 2·85 inches, so that both these districts have received little more than a third to one-half of the usual amount, while in Behar only about six to seven tenths have been received against a normal fall of about two and a half inches, so that the actual fall is only about a quarter of the normal.

In Assam the falls during the week have also been small:—Silchar has received 2·35 inches, Sibsagur 1·56 inches, and Dhubri 0 31 inch only.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 22nd of July 1887:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation, owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten
The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number rs the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 12 tation in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Means for 6 days.

CALCUTTA, the 26th July 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 29TH OF JULY 1887.

AT the close of the previous week a small barometric depression, accompanied by cyclonic circulation of winds, was situated in the north-west angle of the Bay. This small depression, which had formed on the 19th, had remained almost stationary for some days, except for a slight shifting of the centre from day to day, and on the 22nd the centre of the wind circulation was between Balasore and False Point. On the 23rd pressure had fallen over the whole province, the fall being largest in the north-west angle of the Bay, and the small barometric depression which existed over this area decidedly intensified. The lowest pressure reported on this day was 29·513″ at Balasore, and the centre of the depression appeared to be between this station and False Point. A very distinct cyclonic circulation of winds accompanied the very feeble storm, but wind velocities in connection with it were small. On Sunday, the 24th, pressure again fell generally over the province, the fall being very rapid in the north-west angle of the Bay, where at Saugor Island it amounted to 0·151″. This was produced by the further intensification of the depression, the centre of which on this day was decidedly nearer to the land and to Saugor Island than it was on the previous day, and on this date the centre appeared to be almost equi-distant between Saugor Island and Balasore. Pressure at Saugor Island at 10 A.M. on the 24th was 29 391″, and at Balasore 29·409″. Winds again showed a very complete cyclonic circulation round the depression, and practically this circulation affected the wind directions at all the stations in the province. Wind velocities in the neighbourhood of the disturbance, however, continued moderate only, though undoubtedly the weather over the sea area at the head of the Bay was decidedly squally. On this day the depression appears to have commenced to move in a north-westerly direction, and at 10 A.M. of the 25th it was in the extreme west of South-West Bengal, and passing into the south of Chutia Nagpur. On the morning of the 26th it had travelled towards Jubbulpur and Sutna, where on the 27th it rapidly diminished in intensity, and on the morning of the 28th it had practically disappeared. This small storm had therefore a life history of about 8 days, of which for the first five it remained almost stationary, and it was only during the last 2 or 3 days of its existence that it moved in a north-westerly or west-north-westerly direction, gradually decreasing in intensity in its progress over the land.

During the whole period of the existence of the feeble storm, the winds blowing in connection with it were very light. There was, however, the usual indraught towards the storm, and thus the rainfall bearing current was deflected towards the depression, and the greater part of the province received only local showers during the existence of the storm at the head of the Bay, though the area in immediate proximity to the storm received more general and heavier rain. Directly, however, the feeble storm had passed inland, the monsoon current blowing from the Bay of Bengal commenced to increase in strength and to pass over the land, and on the 28th the wind velocity had strengthened at Saugor Island from 15 miles an hour on the 26th and 27th to 20 miles an hour on the 28th, while for the 24 hours ending 10 A.M. of the 29th the velocity had averaged 27 miles an hour. For the last two or three days of the week therefore the monsoon current blowing over the province was decidedly strong, and rainfall became general and in many cases heavy on the 27th, 28th and 29th. The weather conditions at the close of the week were in fact decidedly favourable for the continuance of rainfall in Bengal.

Pressure.—The distribution of pressure has again been largely modified by the existence and passage of the depression described above. Pressure has been decidedly below the normal at almost all the stations in the province, but the defect has of course been greatest at the stations affected by the depression. Thus taking into consideration only those stations from which observations have been received for a series of years, and at which therefore accurate average pressures have been obtained, the variations from the normal are from a defect of 0·069 inch at Calcutta and one of 0·059 inch at Saugor Island to one of 0 005 inch at Purneah and 0 007 inch at Sibsagar.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature during the week have to a great extent been dependent on the distribution of the rainfall. For the week, the average temperature has been distinctly in excess of the normal, the excess being largest in Behar. In North Behar the mean temperature for the week has been 1·8° in excess of the normal, and in South Behar the excess has been 1·5°. In North and East Bengal and Orissa temperature has also been in excess of the normal, but by small amounts, while in Chutia Nagpur it has been normal and in South-West Bengal slightly below it. For the whole province, Assam excluded, the mean temperature for the week has been 0·6° in excess of the normal. In Assam temperature has also been in excess of the normal by 1·3°.

Rainfall.—The causes affecting the distribution of the rainfall have already been referred to under the meteorology of the week. Rainfall has consequently been fairly heavy in all districts except North Behar and North Bengal. Thus in East Bengal, Orissa and Chutia Nagpur the falls have averaged between three and four inches, and in South-West Bengal and South Behar between two and a half and three inches. In North Bengal an average fall of only two inches has been received, and in South Behar only a fall of an inch. The actual average falls for the week in each of the seven meteorological districts expressed as percentage of the normal falls for the period will be:—Orissa 103 per cent., South-West Bengal 93 per cent., East Bengal 93 per cent., North Bengal 74 per cent., North Behar 35 per cent., South Behar 70 per cent. and Chutia Nagpur 85 per cent. Or taking each of these divisions to have an equal value in the calculation, the rainfall of the province for the week has equalled 79 per cent. of the normal.

In Assam rainfall has also been decidedly light and rather deficient during the week: thus Dhubri has received only 0·69 inch, Silchar only 0·81 inch, and Sibsagar, which has received heavier rain, only 2·42 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 29th of July 1887:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

THE principal results to be gathered from the mortuary statistics of the districts in Bengal for the month of February 1887, as exhibited in the table annexed to this memorandum, are the following :—

1. That the deaths of 101,811 persons were registered out of a population of 66,163,884 in these districts, or at the rate of 18·36 per 1,000 per annum, against 26·88 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 17·04 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of 1886, indicating, as compared with the latter period, much improvement in the record of the deaths.

2. That the undermentioned districts returned the highest proportions of the events :—

Dinajpur	28 92	Pubna	24 96

3. That, in comparison with the casualties of the corresponding month of the past year, the mortality from fever had increased to some extent, the death-rate from injury was stationary, and there were no marked differences in fatal results from the rest of the diseases, vide figures given below :—

4. That while the following districts exhibited exceptional mortality from cholera and fever, the rest did not display any noticeable severity from the other diseases specified above, excepting Puri, where 20·76 per 1,000 of the population died from the maladies coming under the head of " Other causes " :—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 4th August 1887.—The following arrangements for weather signals for the approaches to the Port of Calcutta, and for the port itself, have been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, and are published for general information, in supersession of those published in the notification, dated the 5th August 1882, at pages 678-80 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th August 1882 :—

Weather Signals for the approaches to the Port of Calcutta, and for the Port of Calcutta.

1. When a severe cyclonic storm (probably accompanied by a storm-wave) is believed to be advancing to the Bengal coast and across Bengal, one or other of the following signals will be hoisted at the flagstaff near the Light-house in Saugor Island, at the flagstaff near the telegraph office, Mud Point, and at the flagstaff near the telegraph office, Diamond Harbour, and also at the following positions in the Port, viz, the flagstaff upon the Port Commissioners' office, on a flagstaff at Shalimar Point, Seebpore, opposite the Government Dockyard, Kidderpore, and on a flagstaff at the telegraph office, Budge-Budge, on receipt of instructions telegraphed by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal :—

Day signal No. 1, bad weather preparatory signal.

A ball indicates the existence of a cyclonic storm of undetermined intensity and magnitude in the Bay of Bengal, which will either certainly cross the coast to the south of a line between Chittagong and False Point, or which may approach the Bengal coast, but is as yet too far distant to enable its line of advance to be determined.

Day signal No. 2, danger signal.

A cone indicates the early probable passage northward, to the eastward of Saugor Island and west of Chittagong, of the vortex of a cyclonic storm of great intensity and magnitude. It is advisable that sailing vessels, with or without steam, and deep-laden or slow steaming steam-vessels, should not proceed to sea, but remain in the river till the storm has reached the coast and passed inland. The wind at the mouth of the Hooghly will probably haul from north-east through north to north-west, &c.

Day signal No. 3, danger signal.

An inverted cone indicates the early probable passage northward, to the west of Saugor Island and north of False Point, of the vortex of a cyclonic storm of great intensity and magnitude. No vessels should go to sea, and masters and pilots of vessels outward-bound should be guided by the appearance of the weather and height of the barometer in deciding whether it is advisable to proceed below Diamond Harbour or Mud Point. The wind at the mouth of the Hooghly will probably veer from north-east through east to south-east, &c.

Day signal No. 4, great danger signal.

A drum indicates the approach of a cyclonic storm of great intensity and magnitude to the mouth of the Hooghly, and which will probably advance to Calcutta. Masters and pilots in charge of vessels are cautioned not to put to sea from Saugor Island, or to proceed down from Diamond Harbour, and they should make their vessels as snug and secure as possible. The Masters of vessels in the port should take the special precautions for safety laid down in the Port Rules.

There will probably be a storm-wave, but it should be carefully remembered that its height and destructive effect will depend quite as much upon the state and character of the tide when the cyclonic centre reaches the coast, as upon the depression at the centre, or the intensity and extent of the storm.

2. When a small cyclonic storm (usually not accompanied by a storm-wave) is believed to have formed in the Bay, and to be advancing towards the coast, one or other of the following signals will be hoisted, for the information of pilots and mariners, at the staff near the light-house at Saugor Island, at the flagstaff at Mud Point, and at the flagstaff near the telegraph office, Diamond Harbour, and also at the following stations in the Port, viz., on a flagstaff upon the Port Commissioners' Office, on a flagstaff at Shalimar Point, Seebpore, and on a flagstaff at the telegraph office, Budge-Budge, on the receipt of instructions telegraphed from the Meteorological Office, Calcutta, by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal :—

Day signal No 5, bad weather signal.

Two cones, the upper one inverted, indicate the existence of a cyclonic storm of small extent in the Bay of Bengal, which will probably reach and cross the coast of the Bay south of a line joining Chittagong and False Point.

Day signal No. 6, warning signal.

Two cones, the lower one inverted, indicate the existence of a cyclonic storm of small extent, which will probably or certainly reach and cross the coast of the Bay north of a line joining Chittagong and False Point, but the probable path of the vortex of which cannot be determined more exactly from the land observations.

Day signal No. 7, warning signal.

A ball below a cone indicates the probable passage northwards, to the east of Saugor Island and west of Chittagong, of a cyclonic storm of small extent and intensity, of the kind which usually forms in the rainy season. Vessels may proceed to sea if the height of the barometer, state of the sea and weather are such as to lead masters and pilots to infer that there is no danger. The wind at the mouth of the Hooghly will probably haul from north-east through north to north-west &c.

Day signal No. 8, warning signal.

A ball below an inverted cone indicates the probable passage northwards, to the west of Saugor Island and north of False Point, of a cyclonic storm of small extent and intensity of the kind which usually forms in the rainy season. The wind at the mouth of the Hooghly will probably veer from north-east through east to south-east, &c. As these easterly winds will raise a heavy swell and produce a strong westerly set in the channel at the Sandheads, it is advisable that none but fast steamers in light trim should put to sea. and those only if the weather appearances and state of the sea, &c., are not too unfavourable.

Day signal No. 9, danger signal.

A ball below a drum indicates the approach towards Saugor roads of a cyclonic vortex of small extent, of the kind which forms during the rainy reason. It is advisable that no vessels except fast steamers in light trim should put to sea until the wind direction and force, the state of weather and sea, and the rise of the barometer, indicate that the storm has either broken up or passed inland. Cyclonic storms in the Bay of Bengal of small extent, it should be remembered, sometimes blow with hurricane force and raise a high sea near their centres.

3. The following storm warning signals will be hoisted during the prevalence of cyclonic storms in the Bay of Bengal at the signalling stations on the Hooghly previously mentioned, viz., Saugor Island, Mud Point, and Diamond Harbour, and at the following signalling stations in the Port:—viz, on a flagstaff upon the Port Commissioners' Office, on a flagstaff at

Shalimar Point, Seebpore, and on a flagstaff at the telegraph office, Budge-Budge, between sunset and sunrise :—

Night signal No. 10, warning or caution signal.

Three lights exhibited on the flagstaff at equal distances indicate the existence of a cyclonic storm in the north of the Bay.

Night signal No. 11, danger signal.

Two lights, in a vertical line, indicate the early approach of a cyclonic storm to the Bengal coast, or to the Port of Calcutta if the signal is hoisted in the Port.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 4th August 1887.—The following arrangements for weather signals have been sanctioned for the Ports of Orissa, viz., Pooree, False Point, Balasore, and Chandbally by the Lieutenant-Governor and are published for general information :—

Signals for the Orissa Ports.—Storm signals will be hoisted at the ports named above by the Port Officers on the receipt of instructions from the Bengal Meteorological Office, Calcutta, to give notice to the shipping and the general public at these ports of the approach of a cyclone (which may or may not, according to the state of the tides and other conditions, be accompanied by a destructive storm-wave) The signals for the Port of Pooree will be hoisted at the flagstaff on the beach ; for the Port of False Point at the flagstaff at Hookeeollah ; for the Port of Balasore at the flagstaff near the Custom House ; and for the Port of Chandbally at the flagstaff near the Custom House

The following are the signals which will be used at the Orissa Ports, and are identical with those in use at the Burmah and Madras Ports :—

1. Day warning signal.

A ball indicates that a cyclone has formed in the centre or north of the Bay, and that it is advancing in some direction between north and west, and will probably strike and cross the coast of Orissa.

2. Day danger signal.

A drum indicates that a cyclone is in the immediate neighbourhood of the coast of Orissa, and will shortly cross that coast. (It may or may not be accompanied by a destructive storm-wave. The height of the storm-wave depends partly upon the extent of the cyclone, the barometric depression at the centre, and the state of the tides at the time when the cyclone reaches the coast.)

3. Night warning signal.

Three lights in a vertical line indicate that a cyclone has formed in the centre and north of the Bay, and that it is advancing in some direction between north and west, and will probably strike and cross the coast of Orissa.

4. Night danger signal.

Two lights in a vertical line indicate that a cyclone is in the immediate neighbourhood of the coast of Orissa, and will shortly cross that coast. (It may or may not be accompanied by a destructive storm-wave.)

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 4th August 1887.—The following arrangements for weather signals for the Port of Chittagong have been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, and are published for general information :—

Signals for the Port of Chittagong.—The following storm signals will be used within the limits of the Port of Chittagong to give notice to the shipping and general public of the early approach of a cyclone with its attendant storm-wave. They will be hoisted on the flagstaff at the sudder ghât and on the yardarm of the flagstaff at Jooldia on the receipt of instructions from the Meteorological Office :—

1. Day warning signal.

A ball indicates that a cyclone, of which the centre is in the north-east of the Bay, is advancing towards the mouth of the river Karnafuli, and will probably advance towards Chittagong.

2. Day danger signal

A drum indicates that a cyclone, which may or may not be accompanied by a destructive storm-wave, is approaching Chittagong. (It should be remembered that the force and destructive effect of a storm-wave will depend very considerably upon the state of the tides at the time when the storm centre strikes the Chittagong coast.)

3. Night warning signal.

Three lights in a vertical line indicate that a cyclone, of which the centre is in the north-east angle of the Bay, is advancing towards the mouth of the river, and will probably advance towards Chittagong.

4 Night danger signal.

Two lights in a vertical line indicate the early approach of a cyclonic storm to the Port of Chittagong.

The Government of Victoria having determined to hold an Exhibition of Arts, Manufactures, Agricultural and Industrial Processes and Products of all nations during the year 1888, to celebrate the Centenary of the founding of New South Wales, the first Australian Co ony, His Excellency Sir Henry Brougham Loch, Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Colony of Victoria and its Dependencies, &c., &c., did, on the sixth day of January 1887, by and with advice of the Executive Council, issue under the Seal of the Colony of Victoria a Commission authorising measures to be taken for the holding of such Exhibition, and for the carrying out and superintending of the same.

In accordance with the powers vested in them by the aforesaid Commission, the Executive Commissioners have decided to open the on the first day of August 1888, the said Exhibition to be kept open for six months, and closed on the thirty-first day of January 1889.

The Exhibition will be held in buildings which have been specially erected for Exhibition purposes, situated in the Carlton Gardens, in the City of Melbourne, and in such other buildings and grounds attached thereto as may be found to be required; and it is intended that the Exhibition shall be open in the evening as well as during the day.

Acting under the powers conferred upon them, the Commissioners desire to invite the British, Foreign, and Colonial Governments to take part in this Exhibition, and they trust that steps will be at once taken for the display of complete and thoroughly representative exhibits from every country and colony.

During the year 1885, Australasia, with a population of 3,500,000, imported from Great Britain goods to the amount of £32,000,000. The United States, France, and Germany, whose combined populations number 133,000,000, imported during the same period, from Great Britian to the amount of £53,000,000. Calculated at per head of the population, Australasia therefore imported nearly 23 times as much as the above-named countries combined, and this in addition to a large and increasing trade with other countries.

The mileage length of railways opened for traffic in the Australasian colonies amounts to 7,700 miles, and when the lines further authorized and now in course of construction are completed, they will reach a total length of 10,000 miles.

Already the capital cities of South Australia, New South Wales, and Victoria are connected by railway, the distance from Adelaide to Sydney, vid Melbourne, being 1,100 miles. Between Sydney and Brisbane, the capital city of Queensland, a further distance of 710 miles, there remain only about 100 miles of railway to be constructed to connect the capitals of the four principal colonies, and as the construction of this portion is now being rapidly proceeded with, there will soon be uninterrupted communication between Adelaide, Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane, a distance of 1,800 miles.

In view of the remarkable growth of Australasia in all things relating to population, production, and general distribution of wealth amongst all classes, the facilities for rapid, economical, and easy transit, and its many other advantages, the Commissioners confidently invite all desirous of extending their commercial relations with these rapidly-extending communities to exhibit the fullest and most complete representations of their Raw Products, Skilled Industries and Arts, at the Centennial International Exhibition, Melbourne, 1888.

APPLICATIONS FOR SPACE.

1. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward an intimation to that effect not later than the 31st August 1887.

2. Applications for space, with full particulars, are invited as early as possible. Copies of the official form of entry can be obtained upon application to the Secretary to the Commissioners, through the representatives of the country or colony to which the applicants belong. In the event of no representatives being appointed by the country or colony to which an intending exhibitor belongs, he can communicate direct with the Secretary. Applications for space should be made not later than the 31st August 1887. Space assigned to countries and colonies, and not occupied on the 30th June 1888, will revert to the Executive Commissioners, and will be subject to re-arrangement. Space will not be charged for, but power will be reserved by the Executive Commissioners to reduce the space allotted to any Government or any exhibitor should they deem fit, at any time.

3. British, Foreign, and Colonial Governments, or Commissioners appointed by them, are requested to inform the Executive Commissioners, Melbourne, not later than the 31st December 1887, whether they require any increase or diminution of the space offered them, and the quantity. They are also requested to state whether there will be any exhibits for which special space should be provided, together with a description showing their nature and bulk

4. Before the 31st May 1888, the representatives of countries or colonies should furnish, for the approval of the Executive Commissioners, approximate plans, showing the manner in which they propose to allot the space assigned to them, together with lists of their exhibitors, and any other information necessary for the compilation of the official Catalogue. (Vide No. 13.)

Shipment of Exhibits.

5. Commissioners representing countries or colonies, and private exhibitors whose countries are not officially represented, but to whom space has been allotted, may adopt one of two courses, viz.—

(a) They can ship their exhibits direct to Melbourne, and make their own arrangements for their shipment, reception, and exhibition ;

(b) Or consign their exhibits, freight and expenses prepaid, to

PROTECTION TO INVENTORS AND OTHERS.

10. The protection of inventions capable of being patented, and of designs, is secured by the patent laws of Victoria. No work of art, nor any article whatever, exhibited in the buildings, parks, or gardens may be drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatsoever, without the permission of the exhibitor. The Executive Commissioners reserve to themselves the right of authorizing the production of general views.

Sketches, drawings, photographs or other reproductions of articles exhibited will only be allowed upon the consent of the exhibitor and the approval of the Executive Commissioners; but views of portions of the building may be taken upon the sanction of the Executive Commissioners alone.

GOODS REQUIRING SPECIAL WORK OR ACCOMMODATION.

11. The placing and fixing of heavy articles, requiring extra foundations or adjustment, should begin by special arrangement as soon as the progress of the work upon the Exhibition Buildings will permit. The general reception of articles in the Exhibition Buildings will commence on the 1st May 1888, and no articles will be admitted after the 15th July 1888. The plans for the display and accommodation of objects that require either special arrangements or exceptional works for their display must receive the approval of the Executive Commissioners before work is commenced, and all such works must be carried out under the supervision of their officers. The works of general fitting-up must be commenced not later than the 1st June 1888, and the Courts must be ready to receive goods before the 1st May 1888.

EXHIBITS NOT FOR COMPETITION.

12. If exhibits are not intended for competition, it must be so stated by the exhibitor, and they will be excluded from examination by the Jurors.

OFFICIAL CATALOGUE.

13. An Official Catalogue will be published in English by the Executive Commissioners, by whom the sale of Catalogues is reserved. Anything beyond the ordinary description of the exhibit, together with the name of the exhibitor, must be paid for at the rate of five shillings per line. Exhibitors desiring to utilize the Catalogue for advertising purposes should communicate as early as possible on the subject with the Secretary. Each country and colony will, however, have the right of producing at its own expense, but in its own language only, a special Catalogue of the objects exhibited in its section. Such Catalogue, however, must not be offered for sale in this Colony, or be used as a medium for advertising.

GROUPING EXHIBITS.

14. The representatives of countries and colonies will be allowed to group their exhibits as they may think fit in that portion of the Exhibition Buildings allotted to the country or colony which they represent. The Executive Commissioners desire, however, that, where International Courts can be formed, special classes of exhibitions of all nations, and of the same character, shall be exhibited together. Victorian exhibits will be grouped in classes, irrespective of districts.

15. Exhibits from any country or colony whose Government is not represented must be classified according to the following groups. The same direction will be followed in the Catalogue :—

1. Works of art.
2. Education and instruction—Apparatus and processes of the liberal arts.
3. Furniture and accessories.
4. Fictile manufactures, glass, pottery, &c.
5. Textile fabrics, clothing, and accessories.
6. Raw and manufactured processes and products.
7. Machinery—Apparatus and processes used in the mechanical industries.
8. Alimentary products.
9. Sanitation, medicine, hygiene and public relief.
10. Agriculture and associated industries.
11. Horticulture.
12. Mining industries—Machinery, processes, and products.

Any expenses incurred by the Executive Commissioners in the display and exhibition of these goods will be made a first charge upon such goods.

Each of these groups is divided into classes, according to the system of general classification annexed to these regulations, in an Appendix, which includes for each class an enumeration of the nature of the objects which it will comprise.

MOTIVE POWER FOR EXHIBITS.

16. Motive power will be supplied to suitable exhibits free on application to the Executive Commissioners, but the latter reserve to themselves the power to reduce the amount asked for, or to make a charge for a certain portion of the motive power supplied, if they consider necessary. The Executive Commissioners desire to encourage the display of machinery in motion, and of all descriptions of manufactures, &c., in progress, and they will endeavour to provide adequate power to meet all reasonable demands. By the introduction of steam power, it is proposed to afford facilities for presenting not only the machinery for any given manufactures, but also the processes of manufacture. Requests for motive power must be made to the Executive Commissioners prior to 31st March 1888.

17. All shafting, pulleys, belting, connections, &c., for the transmission of power from the main shafting must be provided by, and at the cost of, the exhibitor.

18. It is further intended that space shall be afforded for the production of interesting objects by manual labour.

Fittings, &c.

19. Exhibitors must provide at their own cost all show-cases, shelving, counters, fittings, &c., which they may require.

Right to reject Exhibits.

20. The Executive Commissioners reserve the right of rejecting or returning any proposed exhibit. Articles that are in any way dangerous, or offensive or injurious to public decency and morality, will not be admitted into, or allowed to be exhibited in the Exhibition.

Works of Art.

21. The following special regulations are framed for the reception and admission of works of art. The works admissible include the five classes mentioned below :—

1. Paintings.
2. Drawings, water-colours, crayon drawings, miniatures, enamels, porcelain, designs in glass and clay, designs for stained-glass windows, and mosaic work.
3. Sculpture and die-sinking, and engraving on precious stones.
4. Architectural and engineering drawings and models.
5. Engraving and lithography.

The following are excluded :—

1. Unframed pictures or drawings.
2. Sculpture in unbaked clay.

The duty of deciding upon the admission of works of art will devolve upon a special committee. Suitable space, which will be lighted by electricity, will be reserved for the exhibition of paintings. Other regulations will give information as to the despatch and reception of works of art.

Fire, Accidents, &c.

22. The Executive Commissioners will take precautions for the safe preservation of all objects in the Exhibition, but will be in no way responsible for damage or loss of any kind, or accidents by fire or otherwise, however caused. In order, however, to reduce the danger of fire to a minimum, a special fire-brigade will be formed, and be available, in connection with the Exhibition, from the time of the reception of exhibits to its close.

Insurance, &c.

23. Facilities will be afforded the representatives of countries and colonies, and private exhibitors, for insuring their goods; and they may also employ watchmen, at their own expense, to guard their goods during the hours the Exhibition is open to the public. The appointment of such watchmen will be subject to the approval of the Executive Commissioners. These persons must wear a special dress or distinctive badge.

Awards.

24. The following is the system under which the awards will be made :—

The awards will be based upon written reports adopted by the Jurors.

The Jurors will be selected for their qualifications and character, and shall be experts in the departments to which they are especially assigned; the British, Foreign, and Colonial Jurors shall be nominated by the representatives of each country or colony exhibiting, and, if approved of, will be appointed by the Executive Commissioners who will appoint those for Victoria.

Jurors will be reimbursed such personal expenses as may be allowed by the Executive Commissioners.

The Jurors' reports and the Executive Commissioners' awards will be based upon the inherent and comparative merits of the individual exhibits, the elements of merit being held to include considerations relating to originality, invention, discovery, utility, quality, skill, workmanship, fitness for the purposes intended, adaptation to public wants, economy, cost, and importance of interests involved.

Each report must be deliverd to the Secretary to the Executive Commissioners as soon as completed.

Awards will consist of gold, silver, and bronze medals, and certificates of honourable mention, together with a special report of the Jurors on the subject of the award. A certificate will accompany each medal.

Each exhibitor shall have the right to produce and publish the report awarded to him, but the Executive Commissioners reserve the right to publish and dispose of all reports in any manner they may think best for public information.

25. Immediately after the close of the Exhibiton, exhibitiors or their duly-appointed agents shall remove their effects, and complete such removal by the 31st March 1889. Goods then remaining will be removed by the orders of the Executive Commissioners, and sold by auction, or otherwise disposed of under the direction of the Executive Commissioners, and the net proceeds handed to the exhibitors or their duly-appointed agents.

26. Every person who becomes an exhibitor thereby acknowledges and undertakes to observe the rules and regulations established from time to time for the government of the Exhibition.

27. The Executive Commissioners reserve the right to alter, explain, amend, or add to these regulations, at any time, whatever may be deemed necessary.

Information upon any question of details can be obtained upon application to

RULES FOR THE RECEIPT OF TESTIMONIALS AND ADDRESSES BY SERVANTS OF GOVERNMENT.

No. 29—1629-45, dated Simla, the 22nd July 1887.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

READ—

Home Department Resolution No. 19—746-62, dated 11th May 1885, prescribing rules for the receipt of testimonials and addresses by servants of Government.

In re-issuing the rules contained in Home Department Resolution of the 11th May 1885 with certain necessary additions, the Governor-General in Council desires to invite the renewed attention of Local Governments and Administrations to the subject with which they deal, and to impress on all concerned by them the duty of exact obedience to these regulations.

2. The rules do not apply to the receipt of addresses by the Head of any Government or Administration.

RULES.

1. Save as in these Rules otherwise provided, all servants of Government, covenanted or uncovenanted, are forbidden to receive complimentary or valedictory addresses in any form, or to accept testimonials of any kind, or to attend public meetings or complimentary entertainments of a formal and public character held in their honour.

2. The Government views with disfavour all similar manifestations in the case of retired officers, when following immediately upon their retirement from active service, and designed as an acknowledgment of acts done by them while in the service of Government.

3. It is not intended to prohibit such an expression of regard for the private or official character of an officer retiring from service, or leaving his station or district, as is involved in a farewell entertainment supported by his personal friends, even though some of these may be his official subordinates. But it is expected that the proceedings on such occasions will be substantially of a private and informal character.

4. Local Governments and Administrations are authorised to forward to an officer who has left a station or district the resolution of any local public body recording a vote of thanks to him for help and advice afforded during his official connection with the station or district.

5. Medical officers are not prohibited from receiving pecuniary recognition of their services from a community or body of persons which may desire to acknowledge these; but the previous sanction of the Local Government or Administration must be obtained by medical officers before receiving any public complimentary address.

6. Nothing in the above rules is meant to prohibit compliance with the request of a public body that a Government officer should sit for his portrait, bust or statue in recognition of his public services: provided that the portrait, bust or statue is not intended for presentation to the officer concerned.

7. The participation of Government officers in the raising of funds for the foundation of scholarships, or for procuring a portrait, bust or statue, as a spontaneous recognition of the services of a Government officer is not forbidden; but it should be clearly understood that any solicitation on the part of officers of Government for subscriptions from any person who does not voluntarily come forward to contribute is disapproved by the Government of India.

8. The previous sanction of the Government of India must be obtained to the relaxation of these rules in any special case in which the Local Government or Administration may think this desirable.

RESOLUTION.

THE subject of discussion in the papers cited in the preamble is the preparation and printing of annual departmental reports submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department. In a letter No. 392S., dated the 22nd June 1885, the Government of the Punjab solicited a reconsideration of the whole question of the preparation and treatment of annual reports, so far as that Province was concerned. The alterations suggested by Sir Charles Aitchison and the views provisionally held by the Government of India on the question are summarised in Home Department Resolution of the 12th August 1885. But as the subject was not one of merely local importance, the Governor-General in Council desired, before coming to a final decision, to have a full expression of the opinions of Local Governments and Administrations upon the proposals of the Punjab Government, so far as they affected the reports which are submitted to the Home Department. The replies from Local Governments and Administrations, read in the preamble, contain their opinions on the matter.

2. The proposals of the Punjab Government were made with the double object (1) of removing the burden thrown upon district officers, heads of departments, and Secretariat establishments in connection with the preparation and reviewing of annual reports; and (2) of reducing the cost of printing the reports. These proposals have not been accepted in full by any Local Government or Administration, except by the Chief Commissioner of Burma; and Mr. Crosthwaite, the present Chief Commissioner of that Province, holds, as his reply from the Central Provinces shows, different views from those held by Sir Charles Bernard. The Governments of Madras, Bombay, and Bengal have, to some extent, accepted the proposals in question, and the Chief Commissioner of Coorg has expressed his opinion generally in favour of having statistical tables, accompanied by notes, for two years, and in the third year a set of comprehensive departmental reports.

3. The most adverse criticism of the proposals made by the Punjab Government proceeds from the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, from the Administrations of the Central Provinces and of Assam, and from the Resident at Hyderabad. The Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh is of opinion that the presentation of evidence of departmental efficiency and the collection, in a convenient form, of information useful for administrative and other purposes, cannot be secured under a system of triennial reporting with intermediate statistical tables and brief explanatory notes. He considers that, as was suggested in paragraph 7 of Home Department Resolution of 12th August 1885, the brief notes would probably be of little practical value, while the triennial report would necessarily be prolix and involve much labour in its preparation. The latter, moreover, would be four years old before the orders of Government could be passed or any subsequent action taken upon it. Sir A. Lyall observes that the labour of scrutinizing statistics is little augmented by that of writing a report on them, and that a careful scrutiny and comparison of past and present returns is a necessary part of the duty of the heads of departments in administrating. But, while opposed to the general adoption of the proposals of the Punjab Government, Sir A. Lyall would meet them to some extent by doing away with reports on certain subjects and by substituting for them statistical tables accompanied every year by a brief commentary in the form of notes, such as is now supplied by the Local High Courts of judicature in reviewing the Criminal and Civil Justice returns.

4. Mr. Crosthwaite, at the time Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, concurs in the views of the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in regard to the small amount of labour required to write a report, when once the relevant statistics have been systematically studied. He remarks that the system of writing reports is useful, inasmuch as it ensures that statistics have been scrutinised, and that it enables the Government to see how much care and intelligence have been devoted to this scrutiny. Reports, moreover, in Mr. Crosthwaite's opinion, enable administrative officers to periodically survey the whole of their work and to judge of the effects of it, while they assist Government in seeing how far the recognised principles of administration have been applied and how far errors require to be corrected. If for annual reports triennial reports were substituted, there is, he thinks, likely to be the disadvantage that the officer who had done the work would not ordinarily write the report, or, if he did, that his recollection of the facts regarding which he was writing would have grown dim with time. Under such a system, too, errors of administration could not be corrected at once. Mr. Crosthwaite admits that reports and reviews are often unnecessarily prolix, and should be curtailed, and he suggests that the extended distribution of reports which at present prevails is unnecessary and expensive. He also deprecates the style of review which merely repeats, in other and perhaps fewer words, what is stated in the report.

The Officiating Chief Commissioner of Assam considers that the proposals of the Punjab Government are unsuitable to that Province, and would lead to serious practical inconvenience. Mr. Ward is of opinion that the value of reports to departmental officers would be lost by triennial reports, while the labour of compiling the latter would be very great, particularly to officers who had held their charges only for a small portion of the three years.

The Resident at Hyderabad doubts if the proposed reform would have an useful effect, and argues that the review of the year's transactions by the head of the Government affords an incentive to work. Praise or blame, in the Resident's opinion, loses its effect if it relates to a time long passed away. The officer concerned may have left the locality, and it does not always happen that an officer remains at his post for the whole three years for which he would have to write the report.

5. The opinions briefly summarized above confirm the view taken by the Government of India in the Home Department, as expressed in the Resolution of the 12th August 1885, that it was not possible to go as far as was proposed by the Punjab Government in the direction of curtailing the preparation and submission of annual reports. After giving the subject full consideration, the Government of India agrees in the main with the remarks made by the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the present Chief Commissioner of Burma regarding the usefulness of annual reports as a means of testing departmental efficiency and the judgment and energy of officers, and also of checking and correcting administrative mistakes. Applying this principle, the Governor-General in Council is of opinion that annual reports must be maintained in the two following cases :—

(a) Where the reports deal with the application of administrative principles still open to modification or the concrete working of which has to be watched.

(b) Where the reports contain statistics which for administrative purposes must be compiled and examined annually.

These two heads comprise so many of the reports now falling under the cognizance of the Home Department that the conclusion to which His Excellency in Council has come is that beyond insisting on brevity and methodical arrangement in the reports themselves, and on curtailment of reviews of them, it is impossible to afford much relief to Local Governments in the direction contemplated by this enquiry. The Government of India therefore desires that the reports dealt with in the Home Department should from 1887 onwards be treated in the following manner:—

(i) To be submitted annually as heretofore—

Report on General Administration.
" Municipal Administration.
" Local Boards' Administration.
" Education.
" Sanitation.
" Civil and Criminal Justice.
" Jail Administration.
" Police Administration.
" Lunatic Asylums.

(ii) To be submitted in full every third year, statistical returns and brief commentaries in the shape of notes being submitted in the intermediate years—

Report on Registration.
" Dispensaries.
" Lock-hospitals.
" Vaccination.
" Destruction of wild beasts and snakes.

The notes to be submitted with the statistical returns in the years intermediate between the submission of the reports should give a clear, though brief, indication of the supervising or controlling officer's opinion as to the significance of the statistics.

6. The following special reports should continue to be submitted as before:—

Chemical Examiner's Report.
Report on Calcutta Medical Institutions.
Report of the Port Health Officer, Calcutta.
Report of the Commissioners of the Town of Calcutta.
Report on Publications under Act XXV of 1867.
The Review of Publications.
The Report on Vernacular Newspapers.

The Government of India leaves to Local Governments, who submit reports on Legal Affairs and Criminal Tribes, discretion to determine whether these reports shall be annually prepared as at present or prepared every third year, with brief notes in the intermediate years.

7. The Governor-General in Council would desire to express his earnest hope that Local Governments and Administrations will insist on curtailment of reports to the utmost extent which is consistent with a proper examination of the facts and figures presented in them. A reduction in the size of the reports on Jails, Police, Education, and Sanitation is especially necessary. In most provinces these reports have become far too discursive.

Compression of reviews is not less called for than curtailment of reports: a review should contain only what is necessary to communicate the judgment of the reviewing authority regarding the salient features of the report. The Governor-General in Council attaches no value to reviews which merely repeat in abridged form what is set forth in the report reviewed.

8. While thus recognising the need which exists for compression in the reports and reviews which reach the Government of India, His Excellency in Council is no less desirous that the same principles should be carefully followed as regards reports received by Local Governments and Administrations, but not forwarded to the Government of India. He fears that the time of administrative and executive officers is unnecessarily occupied as much by the preparation of reports and returns submitted for the information of the local authorities as by the preparation of those which reach the Government of India. He has therefore observed with satisfaction that the Government of Bengal has recently, in connection with the report of the Salaries Commission, directed its attention to this aspect of the case; and he trusts that all other Local Governments and Administrations will exercise a vigorous discretion not only in reducing the bulk of the reports and returns which are retained, but also in abolishing those that are not really required.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance; and that a copy be forwarded to the other Departments of the Government of India for information and further necessary action, and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1886-87.

This being the report for the hundredth year, Dr. King has rightly taken the opportunity of giving a sketch of the history of the institution. The following extract contains an interesting account of the garden since its formation :—

The suggestion to form a Botanic Garden here was first made to the Government in Calcutta in June 1767, by Colonel Robert Kyd, then Superintendent of the Hon'ble Company's Dockyard at Kidderpore. The proposal was favourably entertained by the Governor-General, and its adoption was recommended to the Supreme Board in London during the same month, practical effect being given to it during the following year by the selection, as a site, of a large piece of land immediately below Colonel Kyd's private garden at Shalimar. This piece of land, besides the Botanic Garden as it is now limited, included about fifty acres, which form part of the grounds of the present Engineering College. Colonel Kyd was himself an ardent horticulturist, and he had brought together in his private garden at Shalimar a large collection of exotic plants, chiefly from the Straits. He was therefore very appropriately appointed the first Superintendent of the Botanic Garden which had been founded at his suggestion. Colonel Kyd continued to perform the duties of Superintendent until his death in 1793. On Colonel Kyd's death, Government decided to put the garden under the charge of a special officer who should have no other duty. Dr. William Roxburgh, the Company's Botanist in Madras, was therefore transferred from that Presidency, and was installed at Seebpore in November 1793. No better selection than that of Dr. Roxburgh could have been made. Dr. Roxburgh, for many years prior to his transfer, had been engaged in studying the then little known Flora of the Northern Circars in the Madras Presidency. He was a most ardent and enthusiastic botanist, and a good gardener. Dr. Roxburgh continued to be Superintendent until 1814, when he was obliged to proceed to the Cape on account of his health. From the Cape he went on to St. Helena, and from thence to England, where he died during the following year. Dr. Roxburgh was the first botanist who attempted to draw up a systematic account of the plants of India. During his busy life in this country he prepared a Flora Indica, which contained systematic descriptions of all the indigenous plants known to him, as well as of many exotics then in cultivation in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. The manuscript of this work he took with him when he left India, intending to publish it during his residence in England. His death prevented the execution of this plan ; and, with the exception of the first volume, which was printed with some additions and interpolations by Drs. Wallich and Carey in 1820, the book remained unpublished until 1832. In the latter year it was printed, exactly as the author had left it, by the piety of his sons, Captains James and Bruce Roxburgh, neither of whom was a botanist. This book is the basis of all subsequent Indian botanical works. It is an admirable production, the descriptions are accurate and graphic, and its authorship justly entitles Roxburgh to his title of the Father of Indian Botany. Until the year 1872, when the publication of the " Flora of British India " was begun by the distinguished botanist Sir Joseph Hooker, Roxburgh's was the only single book through which a knowledge of Indian plants could be acquired. A second edition of this excellent manual was issued by Mr. C. B. Clarke in 1874 at a merely nominal price, Mr. Clarke's desire being to put the book within the reach of the poorest student. Besides the Flora Indica, Roxburgh published, at the expense of the Hon'ble Company, in three large folio volumes, his Plantæ Coromandelianæ, being descriptions with figures of three hundred of the most striking plants of the Coromandel Coast. Dr. Roxburgh was immediately succeeded in the Superintendentship of the Garden by Dr. Francis Buchanan (afterwards Hamilton), who at the time was on special duty in connection with an extended enquiry into the agriculture of India and in the collection of materials for a Gazetteer. Dr. Hamilton, who was an accomplished botanist and zoologist, collected a vast mass of material, part of which was published in his own name, but the bulk of which, after many years' suppression, was published under the title of Montgomery Martin's History, Topography and Statistics of Eastern India. Dr. Buchanan Hamilton held charge of the garden for only a short time, and he was succeeded in 1817 by Dr. Nathanial Wallich, lately Surgeon to the Danish Settlement at Serampore. Dr. Wallich was an able and most energetic botanist, and during the earlier part of his term of office he organised collecting expeditions into the remote and then little known regions of Kumaon, Nepal, Silhet, Tenasserim, Penang, and Singapore. Dr. Wallich in fact undertook a botanical survey of a large part of the Indian Empire. The materials (in the shape of dried specimens of plants) thus accumulated were taken by Dr. Wallich to London, and, after being named there by himself and by other botanists, they were distributed in numbered collections to the leading botanical institutions in Europe. In this great distribution, Dr. Wallich included the collections of several other botanists which had been made over to him for the purpose. The liberality with which these specimens was given away was so extreme that, in the garden report for the year 1843, we find Dr. Griffith (who had been appointed to officiate for Dr. Wallich during his absence in England) complaining that the herbarium had been completely denuded of every specimen collected during the first fifty years of the existence of the garden. Besides distributing these enormous collections, Dr. Wallich was enabled, through the munificence of the Hon'ble Company, to publish, under the title Plantæ Asiaticæ Rariores, three superb volumes illustrated by coloured figures of a high degree of excellence. Dr. Wallich retired in 1846 and died in 1854. During the lengthened absences of Dr. Wallich in Europe, his place at the garden was filled by Dr. W. Griffith, whose premature death deprived Botanical Science of one of its ablest and most industrious votaries. Dr. Griffith's extensive notes and numerous drawings were, after his death, published by Government in nine volumes. Dr. Wallich was succeeded by Dr. Hugh Falconer. Dr. Falconer was a Palæontologist, well known by his researches on the Sivalik Fossil Mammalia. In 1855 he left the country on account of ill-health, and was succeeded as Superintendent by Dr. Thomas Thomson, a traveller and botanist of much ability, the coadjutor of Sir Joseph Hooker in the collection and distribution of an extensive and well-known herbarium of East Indian plants, and the joint author of the first volume of a new Flora Indica. Dr. Thomson retired in 1861, and was succeeded by Dr. Thomas Anderson, whose untimely death in 1870 was caused by disease contracted during his efforts for the introduction of the quinine-yielding Cinchonas into the Sikkim Himalaya. For the two years subsequent to Dr. Anderson's departure from India, Mr. C. B. Clarke acted as Superintendent, and during his incumbency he began the series of botanical publications which has earned for him so high a scientific reputation.

2. From the first foundation of the garden, it was understood that it was to be made a source of botanical information for the possessions of the Company, and at the same time a centre to which exotic plants of economic interest could be imported for experimental cultivation, and from which, in turn, they could be issued for distribution in the Company's possessions. It was also intended to assist in introducing indigenous Indian products to new markets. It was intended that it should not only be a botanical, but also a horticultural and agricultural garden. The preceding paragraph shows how the botanical work laid out for the garden has been accomplished. But the economic side has by no means been neglected. At first great hopes were entertained that the spices which rendered the trade of the Company with the Moluccas and other of the Malayan Islands so valuable, might be cultivated in Bengal. The earliest efforts of Colonel Kyd were therefore directed to the introduction of the trees which yield nutmegs, cloves and cinnamon, and of the pepper vines. It was, however, speedily proved that the climate of Northern India is quite unsuited to these equatorial species. The equatorial fruits, such as mangosteen, langsat, dukko and bread-fruit, were also tried with a similar result; and so were the temperate fruits of Europe. In fact, no small part of the benefits conferred on the country by the garden in its early days was the demonstration by practical experiment that certain natural products, many of them of a most desirable kind, cannot be grown in Bengal; much money and bootless effort being thus saved to the country. The introduction of exotic timber trees also received early attention; and in the garden there still remain a few of the orginal mahogany trees introduced in these early years. The introduction of tea was one of the items put down in Colonel Kyd's original programme; and in the final establishment of what has now become one of the most important industries in Northern India, the garden bore a most important part. Potato-growing was introduced through its agency, and the cultivation of the quinine-yielding Cinchonas of the Andes was initiated and carried to a successful issue under the direction of Superintendents of this garden. In the improvement of Indian cotton, and in the introduction both of that and of jute to the markets of Europe, the garden authorities worked cordially hand in hand with the Agri-Horticultural Society of India, with what success it is unnecessary to point out. By the introduction of some of the best kinds of sugarcane from the West Indies, and the dissemination of these to all parts of the country, a considerable improvement was effected both on the quality and quantity of the sugar crop of the country. In this matter also the Agri-Horticultural Society worked hand in hand with the garden authorities. Very soon after the establishment of the Society just mentioned, a considerable piece of land in the garden was made over to it rent-free, and on this land the Society conducted the greater part of its operations for forty years. In fact, it was not until the year 1872 that the Society's garden was transferred to its present site in Alipore. It is unnecessary to discuss in detail the numerous experiments in the cultivation of economic plants which have been conducted in the garden since its beginning. A few of the products tried may simply be mentioned. Chief among these are flax, hemp, tobacco, henbane, vanilla, coffee (Arabian and Liberian), cocoa, ipecacuanha, aloes, sarsaparilla, jalap, india-rubber, cardamoms, tapioca, and coca. As regards horticulture, it may suffice to say that a large proportion of the kinds of exotic plants now found in private gardens in India has been introduced to the country through the agency of this garden, and that the improved methods of cultivation which now obtain were to a great extent initiated here.

3. In 1820 about fifty acres of land belonging to the garden were made over by Government to the Society for the Propagation of Christian Knowledge, and on this land the Society founded the institution so long known as Bishop's College, but since 1880 (owing to its retransfer to Government) as the Government Engineering College. In the year 1864 the garden was devastated by a cyclonic storm of extraordinary violence, which either uprooted or broke to pieces the majority of the trees in it, and, by blowing down all the plant-houses, hopelessly crushed their contents. The few trees which escaped on that occasion were sadly reduced in number by a second cyclone which passed over the garden in 1867; and, at the present time, almost the only trees dating from before 1867 are the great banyan and a smaller tree of the same sort, some peepuls and country almonds, about twenty mahogany trees, and some palms. It is almost a pity that the occasion of its destruction by these cyclones was not taken to remove the garden to a site on the Calcutta side of the Hooghly. For, although there are certain advantages in the garden being so remote from the town, there can be little doubt that the balance is in favour of a site more easily accessible to the residents of Calcutta. The destruction of all shade, which resulted from the removal of the trees, allowed the inveterate weed known popularly as ooloo grass, and botanically as Imperata cylindrica, to take possession of the whole of the ground not occupied by roads or flower borders; so that when I took charge of the garden in 1871 it presented rather a sorry appearance. The liberality of the local Government, under whose control it soon thereafter passed, has made it possible for me to lay out the garden entirely anew. The whole of its area has since that date been treated for landscape effects, sheets of ornamental water having been formed, and, with the earth so obtained, undulations having been thrown up. New roads and footpaths have also been made; a building for the Herbarium and three handsome conservatories for the more delicate kinds of living plants have been erected; nursery buildings have been put up; and the garden staff have been furnished with comfortable houses.

4. Botanically the most important feature in the garden is its Herbarium, or collection of dried plants. As has already been explained, all the collections prior to Dr. Wallich's visit to England in 1828 were distributed by him to scientific institutions abroad. The commencement of the present collection dates, therefore, from his return to India in 1832. It consists of plants contributed by almost every worker at Botany in India since that date, and of considerable contributions from Botanists in Europe. It is first and foremost an Indian Herbarium, but the plants of South-Eastern Asia, of Japan, of Persia and of Asia Minor are fairly well represented. Those of Europe are also excellently represented; but in African and American plants the collection is comparatively poor. Constant communication and interchange of specimens have been kept up for the last fifty years with the great national collection at Kew; and to the distinguished Directors of that institution, Sir William Hooker and his son and successor Sir Joseph, the Calcutta Herbarium is indebted for invaluable contributions. Interchanges have also been kept up with other European Botanic Institutions, such as the Herbarium of the British Museum, of the Jardin des Plantes, Paris, the Imperial Gardens at St. Petersburg and Berlin, the Royal Botanic Gardens at Buitenzorg in Java, at Peradeniya in Ceylon, and at Saharanpore; and with many other institutions. Amongst the private contributors in past times from whom the Herbarium has received the most valuable collections must be mentioned Vicary, Edgeworth, Griffith, Wight, Simons, Law, Gibson, Stocks, Dulzell, Kurz, Miquel, and Maingay. The most important contributions received during recent years have been duly mentioned in my annual report.

The transformation which has taken place in the aspect of the garden has been the work of Dr. King himself, whose skill, taste and assiduity were fully recognized by Sir Ashley Eden and supported by him with liberal grants of money. The garden is now in its scientific capacity admittedly the first of all botanical institutions in Asia, and has been designated by high authority the Kew of the East.

2. Valuable additions were made to the collection of dried plants in the herbarium during the year. The chief contributors were Dr. Aitchison, of the Afghan Boundary Commission; Mr. Thisleton Dyer, Director of the Botanical Garden at Kew; Dr Gills; Dr. G. Watt; Dr. Rigel, of the Imperial Garden at St. Petersburgh; Mr. Medley Wood, of the Botanic Garden, Durban; Mr. Pringle; Mr H. O. Forbes; Dr. Prain, Curator of the Herbarium, Royal Botanic Garden, Seebpore; Mr. Gustav Mann; Mr. J. F. Duthee; Colonel H. Collett, C.B., of Saharunpore; Reverned J. Campbell, of Manbhoom; and Mr. J. S. Gamble, Conservator of Forests. Four hundred named species were received from Mexico, and three excellent named collections were sent by Mr. Medley Wood from Natal.

3. During the year 8,064 plants were received and 46,104 were issued. Nine hundred and three packets of seeds were received and 2,534 packets were distributed. The plants and seeds were distributed chiefly to Botanical Gardens, Forest Officers, District Officers, and Officers of the Public Works Department. A large quantity was also supplied to private individuals. The principal contributors were the Superintendents of the several Botanical Gardens.

4 Dr. King was engaged for some time in preparing a Monograph on "The species of Ficus of the Indo-Malayan and Chinese Countries" The first part of this valuable work has evoked strong approbation from scientific men and bodies, and the Lieutenant-Governor has had pleasure in directing that copies of it be supplied to the great Botanical Institutions of the world.

5. The Lloyd Botanic Garden at Darjeeling was under the charge of Mr. Kennedy. A lease has been obtained of the plot of land between the Botanic Garden and the Eden Sanitarium. This land is being used as a vegetable garden, and is under the charge of the Superintendent of the Botanic Garden. The acclimatised English potatoes have proved a failure, and the experiment made by private growers has also been unsuccessful.

6. A sum of Rs. 1,373 was realized by the sale of surplus plants at the Calcutta garden, and Rs. 1,180 by the sale of produce of the Darjeeling garden.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE FIRE-BRIGADE IN THE TOWN AND SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA AND IN HOWRAH DURING THE YEAR 1886-87.

No. 3970, dated Calcutta, the 21st July 1887.

From—H. J. S. COTTON, Esq., C S., Officiating Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit, under section 30 of Bengal Act IV of 1883, the following report on the working of the Fire-Brigade in the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah for the year 1886-87.

2. The Brigade was in attendance at thirty-six fires during the year—twelve in the Town, six in the Suburbs, and eighteen in Howrah. The loss of property was estimated at Rs. 64,375. It will be seen that the fires were much less serious than in the previous year. The only important fires were one on board the S S Mira, in which a portion of the cargo of tea and wheat, to the value of Rs. 20,000, was destroyed, and another on board the ship Glendarnel, laden with jute, which sustained damage to the extent of Rs. 10,000. In the Suburbs the fires were mostly confined to thatched and tiled houses. Of the fires in Howrah, only two call for remark—one on the Grand Trunk Road, in which property of the value of Rs. 2,100 was destroyed, and the other at the Ghoosery Cotton Mills, in which 6,000lbs. of cotton, valued at about Rs. 1,000, was burnt.

3. There was no loss of life in any of these fires, and the destruction of property was less than that caused in previous years. No fire occurred in any jute warehouse.

4. A memorandum of the fires is enclosed.

5. A statement of the receipts and expenditure of the Fire-Brigade is also enclosed.

6. Under section 23 of the Act, nineteen prosecutions were instituted during the year, and convictions were obtained in twelve cases.

7. Only one license, granted to a dealer in Bhowanipore for the sale of fireworks, was withdrawn in October last under section 24 of the Act.

Statement showing the actual Receipts and Disbursements of the Fire-Brigade Fund for the year ending 31st March 1887.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·6° higher; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, DURING THE MONTH OF JULY 1887.

THE month of July in Bengal is one of the most important of the whole year from a meteorological point of view, for it is the first complete month of the actual monsoon period. It is generally the case that the complete establishment of the two great branches of the monsoon current does not take place till quite the end of June or beginning of July, and usually the rainfall in the Lower Provinces in July is heavier than during any other month of the year. Another reason why the meteorology of this month is important is that the distribution of the rains in July generally gives a rough indication of the probable distribution of the rainfall during the whole of the monsoon period.

The circumstances and conditions of the establishment of the south-west monsoon have been dealt with in previous reports, and it has been pointed out that, while during June the rainfall in Bengal is practically almost entirely brought up by the Bay of Bengal monsoon current, at the end of this month, or commencement of July, the conditions change, and the Bombay branch of the monsoon, blowing from the Indian Ocean and the Arabian Sea, advances slowly across Central India and the Central Provinces, and makes its influence felt in Bengal, and particularly in the western districts of the province. In its forward progress the Bombay current meets the Bay of Bengal monsoon current, and the interaction between the two currents gives rise to ascensional motion, which, according to well known physical laws, causes condensation of the aqueous vapour in the form of rain. The Arabian Sea branch of the monsoon current therefore exercises a considerable influence on the rainfall in Behar, Chutia Nagpur and Bengal generally during July.

The Bay of Bengal current, if it alone prevailed, as is the case to a certain extent in June, would undoubtedly deposit the greater part of its vapour as rain in the neighbourhood of the sea coast, and along the areas nearest to the hills in the east and north of the province. The interaction between the two branches of the monsoon current is undoubtedly greatest in the western districts of the province, and therefore tends to give heavier rainfall to Chutia Nagpur, South Behar and West Orissa, or to those parts of the province which would receive the smallest amounts of rain from the direct action of the Bay of Bengal branch; that is, the combined effect of the two branches is to produce in normal years a fairly uniform rainfall over the whole province. The amount of the interaction between the two branches of the monsoon current will depend on two things—first, on the relative strengths of the two currents; and second, on the position or direction in which the currents meet, for as the Bengal current is changed by the physical configuration of the country over which it is flowing from a south-westerly wind at the head of the Bay, first into a southerly, then into a south-easterly, and finally into an easterly current, it is evident that interaction with the westerly current will be more marked in Behar, where the Bay of Bengal current is easterly, than it will be in Orissa, where it is south-westerly, Thus in normal years the rainfall in the western parts of Behar and of Chutia Nagpur is practically entirely brought about by the interaction above described.

It must, however, be remembered that the south-west monsoon winds are by no means steady. They blow vigorously for a few days, giving more or less general rain, and then fall off in strength, when the rainfall becomes local. A fresh inrush of winds then occurs, followed by general rainfall with subsequent lulls as just described. It is during these periods of comparative calm that conditions become favourable for the generation of small cyclonic storms, which in most cases are formed near the head of the Bay, though they also, but more rarely, may form over the land. With the advance of these cyclonic storms heavy rain generally occurs, and it depends to a great extent on the character of these small storms or atmospheric whirls, that is, whether they are of concentrated or of diffused nature, whether the rainfall which accompanies their advance falls only near the path of the storm, or whether it is widely diffused over a large portion of the province. With the advance of these storms strong humid winds generally set in over the whole province, giving rise to general rain for some days. The precise conditions which determine the formation of these storms are, however, not clearly understood, and while in some years a constant succession of such storms will occur, in other years they may be almost absent, or at all events very few of any importance occur.

It will thus be seen that the meteorological conditions of July depend mainly on two points—first, on the character and intensity of the two monsoon currents from the Bay of Bengal and Arabian Sea; and second, on the occurrence, nature and paths of the small cyclonic storms which frequently occur in the rainy season.

Average distribution of the rainfall in July.—Two lines of maximum normal rainfall may be traced in Bengal during July. The first line is more or less parallel to the sea coast, and is caused by the humid winds from the Bay of Bengal. The second line of maximum rainfall is more or less parallel to the hill ranges in the east and north of the province, and this is accounted for by the well-known fact that these ranges cause ascensional motion of the Bay of Bengal current, and consequent precipitation of heavy rainfall. The line of 20 inches average rainfall in July runs through the Eastern Bengal districts at some little distance from the coast line, the distance from the coast increasing as it runs to the eastward; the second line of 20 inches average rainfall is found along the Darjeeling Hills, running almost east and west. The line of 15 inches average rainfall starts from Saugor Island and runs in an easterly direction parallel to the first-mentioned line till near the Tipperah Hills, when it suddenly turns in a north-westerly direction, finally passing through Bogra and Dinagepore, where it is more or less parallel to the line of 20 inches in the Darjeeling Hills. The line of 12 inches average rainfall runs from Motihari in Northern Behar almost due south-east parallel to the 15-inch line to Rajmehal, and thence through Jessore along the borders of the Chutia Nagpur district into South Behar. Inside this area of average rainfall of less than twelve inches there are two areas of considerable interest. The first is the area of minimum rainfall of the month, which embraces the Jessore district, some parts of the Nuddea and Burdwan districts, as well as the Rajshahye district. This minimum fall is explained by the fact that this portion of Bengal is not influenced by either of the three causes which tend to produce increased rainfall: namely, it is not near the coast line when the humid winds expend their first force; it is not near any hill ranges where ascensional air motion will take place; and third, it is not under the influence of the interaction between the two branches of the monsoon current as previously described. The other area of interest is one of increased precipitation near Patna. The Chutia Nagpur Division receives during the month a normal rainfall of between twelve and fifteen inches, and this comparatively large amount is evidently produced by the interaction of the two branches of the monsoon current over this district.

Meteorology of the month.—At the commencement of July the monsoon current blowing over the province from the Bay of Bengal was decidedly light, and during the first six days the passage of the current over Bengal was partially stopped by the formation of a feeble whirl in the Bay of Bengal, which only reached the land on the 7th, close to Saugor Island. With the advance of the feeble storm over the land a moderately strong monsoon current then commenced to flow over Bengal, and gave moderate amounts of rain. This depression had practically disappeared on the 8th, but on the 9th a new depression was formed in Central Bengal, which commenced to move in a north-westerly direction, passing near Burdwan and then into the North-West Provinces, finally disappearing on the 13th in the north-east of Rajputana. Again, with the advance of the depression a moderate monsoon current flowed over the province. This small storm was still advancing when, on the 11th and 12th, another small depression commenced to form at the head of the Bay, and over South-East Bengal, which depression afterwards moved in a north-westerly direction and only filled up and disappeared over Beluchistan on the 17th. The indraught towards this storm had ceased to affect Bengal after the 15th, and the most noticeable feature in the weather on the 16th was the setting in of a westerly wind current over the greater part of the province, due to the abnormal strength of the Bombay branch of the monsoon, which drove back the easterly and south-easterly wind current which had previously been blowing. A slight area of comparatively low pressure was also developed on the 16th over the eastern part of South Behar. Conditions on this day were not favourable for heavy rain, and only light and local falls were reported over the greater part of the province. On the 17th the weather conditions over Bengal became extremely abnormal, in the fact that at practically all stations in the province wind was north-westerly. This was apparently brought about by the unusual strength of the westerly Bombay current, which entirely drove back the very feeble monsoon current which was blowing from the Bay of Bengal, and thus practically at all stations from Buxar down to Negapatam winds became westerly and north-westerly. Under these circumstances, a short break in the rains became established, and on this day practically the whole province was rainless. Such abnormal conditions as these, however, could not continue long, and on the 18th the Bay of Bengal current commenced to strengthen slightly, and in South Bengal there were distinct indications of interaction between the two opposing wind currents, which gave rise to somewhat numerous and heavy local showers, but it was evident that the southerly winds would gradually drive back the abnormal north-westerly winds. On the 19th the advancing southerly current had made further progress, and at all, except a few stations in the west of Behar and Chutia Nagpur, winds had become southerly and south-easterly. The amount of interaction became larger, and in North Bengal heavy rain fell, but elsewhere rainfall was light and local. On the 19th, however, a rapid fall of pressure took place in the north-west angle of the Bay, and a new depression was formed, which, however, only passed over the land on the 24th and 25th and disappeared on the 28th. During the whole period of the existence of this feeble storm, the winds blowing in connection with it were very light. There was, however, the usual indraught towards the storm, and thus the rainfall-bearing current was deflected towards the depression, and the greater part of the province received only local showers during the existence of the storm at the head of the Bay, though the area in immediate proximity to the storm received more general and heavier rain. Directly, however, the feeble storm had passed inland, the monsoon current blowing from the Bay of Bengal commenced to increase in strength and to pass over the land, and on the 28th the wind velocity had strengthened at Saugor Island from 15 miles an hour on the 26th and 27th to 20 miles an hour on the 28th, while for the 24 hours ending 10 A.M. of the 29th the velocity had averaged 27 miles an hour. For the last two or three days of the week therefore the monsoon current blowing over the province was decidedly strong, and rainfall became general and in many cases heavy on the 27th, 28th, and 29th. The weather conditions at the close of the month were in fact decidedly favourable for the continuance of rainfall in Bengal, and more favourable than they had been at any previous time throughout the month.

Speaking generally, it may be said that the monsoon current blowing from the Bombay side during July has been abnormally strong throughout the month, and this has caused the Bay of Bengal monsoon current to be deflected in a more westerly direction than is usual Hence the rainfall due to this current has been deflected towards the Burma coast. and particularly heavy rain has been reported along this coast, while the rainfall over Bengal has been correspondingly deficient.

Bengal thus has been under the influence of no less than four distinct baromatric depressions during the month, the formation and history of which may be shortly described as follows :—

1 Feeble depression of 2nd to 8th July.—On the 2nd instant pressure became comparatively low off the Arakan coast, and winds showed a slight tendency to circulation along this coast. On the following day these indications of the formation of a feeble barometric depression or whirl were confirmed, and the depression was probably on this day near the centre of the Bay and south of a line joining Akyab and Gopalpore. On the 4th the whirl had developed to a sufficient extent to cause a distinct cyclonic circulation of winds over the whole of the northern half of the Bay, and on this day probably the centre of the whirl or feeble depression was to the west of the centre of the Bay, and to the east-south-east of Gopalpore. On the 5th it had distinctly developed and had advanced in a north-westerly direction, the centre being to the south of Saugor Island and about east-north-east of False Point. Notwithstanding that it had distinctly developed, it was still exceedingly feeble, and the wind velocities in connection with it were very small, though the circulation was completely cyclonic. On the 6th it had again advanced, and on this day apparently the centre was close to Saugor Island, but it was clear that it was not developing to any extent, but that it was rather becoming more feeble. On the 7th it had passed inland, but it had weakened to such an extent that it had almost disappeared, and on the 8th it had quite filled up. For the whole period of its existence the winds accompanying it, as judged by the coast stations were comparatively weak, but at sea it probably gave rise to strong winds and squally weather. In its advance it brought rather heavy rain, and on the 6th Balasore, Jellasore, Contai, Saugor Island, Devog, and other stations each reported about 2 inches of rain.

2. Depression of 9th to 13th July—On 9th July the pressure fell decidedly rapidly at some of the stations in Central Bengal, and a distinct barometric depression was formed over this area. The depression was accompanied by a decided cyclonic circulation of winds. On the 10th the depression had developed very rapidly, and had moved slowly in a westerly direction. On this day pressure fell rapidly at the stations in Central and Western Bengal and in Chutia Nagpur, the fall at some stations almost equalling 0·15″, while many stations such as Calcutta, Burdwan, Bankoora, and Raneegunge, &c., showed falls considerably exceeding a tenth of an inch. Winds also decidedly increased in force, and there was again on this day a strong cyclonic circulation of winds round the centre of the feeble storm. The centre was near Burdwan, where a pressure of 29·361″ was registered, and towards which point baric gradients were decidedly steep. The small storm was fed by a powerful monsoon current, and heavy rain was brought on both the 9th and the 10th to the districts affected by the storm. On the following day pressure fell rapidly at Allahabad and Benares, and the depression, which was on the previous day in West Bengal, had apparently been transferred to this district while on the 12th it had advanced into Bundlekund, and on the 13th into the north-east of Rajputana, where it filled up.

3. Depression of 11th to 17th July.—On Monday, the 11th, also pressure began to fall off the east coast of the Bay, and this continued on the 12th, when pressure became decidedly low over South-East Bengal, and it was evident that a small barometric depression was forming either over the sea area just to the south of the Sunderbuns, or over the land area to the south of Jessore. On the 13th a distinct depression was developed, and at 10 A.M. on this day its centre was nearly between Calcutta and Saugor Island. During the the same afternoon the centre passed only a short distance to the south of Calcutta in a westerly direction. This storm was small ; but with a moderately steep gradient and pressure at Calcutta fell to about 29·3″. On the morning of the 14th the small storm had passed into the Central Provinces and Central India. This storm again advanced in a westerly direction, and on the morning of the 15th it was near Hoshungabad. On the morning of the 16th the small storm had reached Hyderabad in Sind, and was disappearing across the Indus, while on the 17th it had disappeared over Beluchistan. The storm which appeared in South Bengal on the 12th had therefore a life history of from five to six days, and it travelled over a distance of from 1,500 to 1,600 miles quite unbroken ; the direction of its movement was a little to the north of west. It was accompanied by a clearly marked cyclonic circulation of winds, but though the wind force at the land stations was only moderate, during its formation and advance very strong winds were blowing over the sea at the head of the Bay, and weather was decidedly squally, if not rather stormy, though at no time was the storm of any particular intensity.

Depression of the 19th to 28th July—On the 19th instant a rapid fall of pressure took place in the north-west angle of the Bay, the fall at False Point being 0·127″. A distinct but feeble barometric depression was thus formed, the centre of which was to the south-east of False Point, and which was accompanied by a feeble cyclonic circulation of winds. This small depression was the principal feature in the meteorology of the last ten days of the month, and it continued to exist without intensifying to any material extent, and without any movement beyond a slight shifting of the centre from day to day up till the 24th. On the 20th the centre of the depression was apparently to the south of Saugor Island ; on the 21st the centre of the wind circulation was between Saugor Island and Balasore, and on the 22nd the centre of the wind circulation was between Balasore and False Point.

On the 23rd pressure had fallen over the whole province, the fall being largest in the north-west angle of the Bay, and the small barometric depression which existed over this area decidedly intensified. The lowest pressure reported on this day was 29·513″ at Balasore, and the centre of the depression appeared to be between this station and False Point. A very distinct cyclonic circulation of winds accompanied the very feeble storm, but wind velocities in connection with it were small. On the 24th pressure again fell generally over the province, the fall being very rapid in the north-west angle of the Bay, where at Saugor Island it amounted to 0·151″. This was produced by the further intensification of the depression, the centre of which on this day was decidedly nearer to the land and to Saugor Island than it was on the previous day, and on this date the centre appeared to be almost equi-distant between Saugor Island and Balasore. Pressure at Saugor Island at 10 A.M. on the 24th was 29·391″, and at Balasore 29·409″. Winds again showed a very complete cyclonic circulation round the depression, and practically this circulation affected the wind directions at all the stations in the province. Wind velocities in the neighbourhood of the disturbance, however, continued moderate only, though undoubtedly the weather over the sea area at the head of the Bay was decidedly squally. On this day the depression appears to have commenced to move in a north-westerly direction, and at 10 A.M. of the 25th it was in the extreme west of South-west Bengal, and passing into the south of Chutia Nagpur. On the morning of the 26th it had travelled towards Jubbulpur and Sutna, where on the 27th it rapidly diminished in intensity, and on the morning of the 28th it had practically disappeared. This small storm had therefore a life history of about eight days, of which for the first five it remained almost stationary, and it was only during the last two or three days of its existence that it moved in a north-westerly or west-north-westerly direction, gradually decreasing in intensity in its progress over the land.

These four depressions, it will be noticed, have all affected the central, western and south-western districts of Bengal only, and by the rainfall they have brought they have caused the rainfall of these districts to be heavier than they otherwise would have been, and thus many parts of these districts have received falls in excess of the normal, while considerable tracts of the north and east of the province have received very deficient rainfalls.

Pressure.—The variations of pressure have been controlled to a great extent by the passage of the succession of depressions just described. For the first week of July the mean pressure of the province of Bengal was in excess of the normal by 0·019″, while in Assam the excess was 0·015″; in the second week, as Bengal was under the influence of two depressions, pressure was decidedly below the normal, the defects ranging from 0·123″ at Burdwan and 0·113″ at Calcutta, where these stations were fully influenced by the depressions, to a defect of 0·063″ at Purneah. In Assam, too, the general defect was nearly 0·08″. In the third week pressure was rather largely in defect at its commencement, while at its close it had become much more nearly normal, while in the fourth week pressure was again below the normal, the defects being largest at the stations affected by the depression, where at Saugor Island and Calcutta they amounted to about 0·06″, while at Sibsagar and Purneah, which were unaffected by the depression, the pressure was almost normal. For the whole month the mean pressure has been below the normal at almost all stations, and taking only those stations into consideration from which means have been obtained for several years, the average defect in pressure of the province has been 0·017″, while the extreme variations are from a defect of 0·037″ at Calcutta, 0·032″ at Chittagong, 0·028″ at Saugor Island, and 0·027″ at False Point to an excess of 0·007″ at Purneah and 0·002″ at Hazaribagh. These figures would therefore tend to show that pressure has been relatively low at the head of the Bay, and perhaps over the sea area, where one of the depressions remained stationary for several days.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature during the month have not been of great importance, and the mean temperature of the various meteorological districts has in no case varied from the normal of the month by more than about half a degree, and thus while North and South Behar and East Bengal have recorded temperatures from 0·2° to 0·5° in excess of the normal, Orissa, South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur have recorded temperatures from 0·3° to 0·5° in defect of the normal, and in North Bengal temperature has been quite normal. For the whole province for July temperature has been on the average precisely normal. In Assam the mean temperature has been in excess of the normal by 0·6°.

Rainfall.—The causes which have affected the rainfall in Bengal during July have already been explained. The Bay of Bengal branch of the monsoon which has been blowing has on the whole been rather weaker than usual, but the Bombay branch blowing from the Arabian Sea has been of very great strength, and has swept across India to an abnormal extent, and has thus had the effect of deflecting the Bay of Bengal branch in a more westerly direction than usual. The rainfall from the Bengal current has been determined towards the Burma coast, and the greater part of Bengal (and particularly the eastern and northern districts which depend almost wholly for their rainfall on this current) has received a rainfall rather largely in defect of the normal. This scarcity of rainfall has, however, been compensated for in some districts by the formation and passage of the four barometric depressions which have previously been described The districts which have been most affected by these depressions have been Southern and Western Bengal and parts of Orissa and Chutia Nagpur, and the distribution of the rainfall, as compared with the normal, exactly agrees with the area which has thus been affected. The rainfall in Bengal generally, owing to the deflection of the rain-bearing current, has been considerably below the normal, but while this is the case, South-West Bengal has received a fall three per cent. in excess of the normal. In Chutia Nagpur the fall for the month has been seven per cent. in defect of the normal, and in Orissa the defect has been nine per cent. The defects in the other districts which have scarcely been affected by the passage of the depressions have been much larger, and thus in South Behar the defect has been equal to seventeen per cent. of the normal, and in East Bengal to twenty per cent. In the two northern districts the defects have been excessive, and thus in North Bengal the defect has been thirty-seven per cent., and in North Behar it has been no less than forty-one per cent. of the normal. If these various districts may be said to have an equal value in the calculation, then the average rainfall of the whole of Bengal for July may be said to have been equal to eighty-two per cent. of the normal.

The comparison of the actual rainfall of the various great divisions of the province during July with the normal is most accurately shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month, calculated in this way, are included in the table below under the heading of July. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first seven columns giving the actual rainfalls in each division in each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the eighth column of figures shows the actual rainfall for the first seven months of the year expressed as a percentage of the normal for the period; the figure 100 will therefore in this table represent a normal rainfall, a number larger than 100 an excess fall, and so on :—

Meteorological districts.	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	July.	Total actual rainfall of first seven months expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.
Orissa	119	Nil.	137	60	103	66	91	94
South-West Bengal ..	292	2	259	56	139	82	103	104
East Bengal	412	14	206	34	71	79	80	82
North Bengal	530	2	274	114	158	139	63	121
North Behar	381	Nil.	127	109	177	135	59	106
South Behar	411	Nil.	363	188	423	70.	83	119
Chutia Nagpur	500	Nil.	10	111	331	73	93	105

From the above table it will be seen that the districts in which the rainfall has been so largely in defect in July are those in which the falls were in large excess in the previous months; and that, taking the rainfall of the first seven months of the year into account, all districts, except East Bengal and Orissa, have received falls in excess of the normal, and that in North Bengal and South Behar the falls have been rather largely in excess, the excess falls equalling about 20 per cent.

Taking up the rainfall of the Province more in detail, when compared with the normal for July, the province is clearly divided into three sections, and a tract of country which has received excess rainfall lies between two areas of decided defect. The district of excess rainfall may be roughly described as a band of country varying from about 50 to 100 miles in width, which starts from the Sunderbuns running northwards, and including the greater part of the 24-Pergunnahs district, then including parts of the Midnapore and Bankoorah districts, and the greater part of Burdwan and Moorshedabad. The band then suddenly turns towards the west and includes part of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, parts of the Monghyr and Gya districts, and a considerable part of Hazaribagh. There are also districts of excess falls in Cuttack, Balasore and Chittagong. The excess falls in some of these districts are considerable, and in a good many instances exceed five inches, while at Tumlook in the Midnapore district the excess is 8·52 inches. On either side of this band of excess rainfall, the falls are all in defect, the district to the west and south-west of the excess region generally showing a defect of less than three inches, while to the east and north of the area of excess the defects are much larger, and the greater part of this area shows a defect exceeding three inches, and a large area a defect of more than five inches, while there is a small area in North Bengal represented by such stations as Julpigoree, Micklijunge and Buxa, and another area in South-East Bengal represented by Comilla and Fenny, which have received falls more than ten inches below the normal for the month. Taking the areas into consideration, only about one-fifth or one-sixth of the province has received an excess fall, while the remainder has been decidedly in defect.

The actual falls which have been received during the month have varied even more largely than usual, and while some stations in the province in North Bengal have received a fall of about 30 inches and upwards, and others in the extreme south-east have received a similar quantity, other districts in North Behar and one station in Cuttack have received falls of less than five inches during the month.

The districts which have thus received falls largely in defect of the normal are Pooree, Krishnagore, Jessore, Mymensingh, Tipperah, Furreedpore, all the districts in North Bengal and in North Behar, and all in South Behar, except the Sonthal Pergunnahs. In Chutia Nagpur Manbhoom has been also in decided defect.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and the normal rainfall of the month of July in all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance or weight being given for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 15 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting station in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third column in a slightly different form. It states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal rainfall, and is hence the difference between the numbers in the third column and 100 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past ten years. The rainfall in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Means for six days.

CALCUTTA, the 9th August 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 5TH OF AUGUST 1887.

At the close of the previous week, a small cyclonic storm, which had formed at the head of the Bay, had advanced inland through South-West Bengal, and had filled up and disappeared near Sutna on the 28th. In the rear of the storm a very strong monsoon current set in from the Bay of Bengal, and on the 30th, the first day of the present week, conditions were decidedly favourable for general rainfall in Bengal. The strength of the monsoon current blowing at the head of the Bay may be inferred from the velocity of the wind as registered at Saugor Island, and on the 30th wind velocity was 23 miles an hour; on the 31st it was 21 miles an hour, on 1st August it had fallen to 12 miles, but on the 2nd it rose to 30 miles an hour, thus showing that a very strong monsoon current was passing over the province. Practically speaking, a strong monsoon has been blowing over the province for the whole of the week, and the only change in these meteorological conditions which has to be registered is the alternate preponderance of one or other of the two branches of the monsoon current. At the commencement of the week the westerly element in the wind directions, that is, the Bombay current derived from the Arabian Sea, was gradually strengthening, and this continued on the 30th and 31st of July. On 1st August, however, the south-easterly and easterly winds from the Bay of Bengal commenced to increase in strength, and gradually drove back the westerly winds, and at the point where the two currents met, there was a slight, but distinct, cyclonic circulation set up, which continued on the 2nd. On the 3rd of August the Bombay current again strengthened, and drove back the easterly winds, and this continued up till the close of the week. Owing to the interaction of these two wind currents, conditions generally have been decidedly favourable to rainfall over the whole province, and practically the whole of the Province of Bengal has received a rainfall in excess of the normal. The week has thus been characterised by very simple meteorological conditions, and for almost the first time during the present monsoon season, conditions have been nearly normal for general rainfall, and the province has been free from such abnormal conditions as the formation and passage of barometric depressions Pressure.—The changes of pressure, which have occurred during the present week, are of small importance. They have consisted merely of the usual oscillating movements which always occur even when the atmosphere is in a normal condition, and thus on the 30th of July pressure was rising slowly, and on 31st July and 1st August the rise was succeeded by a slow fall. Pressure again increased on the 2nd and fell on the 3rd and 4th, and on the 5th it was again rising. These changes have therefore not produced any very material alteration in the pressure distribution, and pressure has been above the normal by small amounts in all districts, the general excess being about 0·03″ to 0·05″. The largest excess pressures are, however, recorded usually in Orissa and South-West Bengal, and at False Point the average excess for the week equals 0·069″ and at Calcutta 0·057″. In Assam pressure has been above the normal by amounts which average about 0·02″ to 0·03″.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature from day to day have been of comparatively little importance; but owing to the heaviness of the rainfall, temperature has generally been decidedly lower than the normal in most districts. The only district where this has not been the case is Orissa, which shows a temperature no less than 1·4° in excess of the normal, but in this district rainfall has been comparatively light during the week. In all other districts temperature has been below the normal by amounts varying from 0·2° in East Bengal to 1·5° in Behar. The mean temperature of the whole Province of Bengal for the week has been 0·7° in defect of the normal. In Assam also temperature has been in defect of the normal by 0·8°.

Rainfall—Has been fairly general throughout the week, and in most districts falls have occurred on from five to six days out of the seven. South-West Bengal, however, has only received rain on an average of 4·4 days, and in Orissa the number of rainy days has only been three. The falls which have been received have also been heavy: thus in North Bengal the average fall is about five and a half inches; in East Bengal it has exceeded five inches, and in South-West Bengal, South Behar, and Chutia Nagpur the falls have averaged between 4 and 5 inches. In North Behar the fall has been rather less than three inches, and in Orissa it has been less than one-and-a-half inches. Expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the week, the actual average amounts received in each meteorological district become—Orissa 48 per cent, South-West Bengal 136 per cent., East Bengal 121 percent., North Bengal 182 per cent., North Behar 119 per cent., South Behar 173 per cent., and Chutia Nagpur 130 per cent., or, taking each of these meteorological districts as having an equal value in the calculation, the actual fall over the whole province during the week has equalled 130 per cent. of the normal for the period.

Taking up the rainfall rather more in detail, the following districts have received extremely large excess falls during the week:—in South-West Bengal, Bankoorah, Burdwan and Ranigunge; in North Bengal, Dinagepore, Rungpore, and Julpigoree; in Behar, Chupra, Buxar, Dehree, Gya, Bankipore, Bhagulpore and Nya Doomka; and in Chutia Nagpur, Lohardugga and Hazaribagh. On the other hand the following districts have received comparatively small falls:—Pooree, Cuttack, Furreedpore, Dacca, Maldah and Motihari.

In Assam the following amounts of rain have been received during the week:—Sibsagar 39 inches, Dhubri 4·79 inches, and Silchar 4·78 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 5th of August 1887:—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

The 12th August 1887.—The following rules prescribed in the Resolutions of the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, Nos. 1596, 2036, and 1370, dated, respectively, the 28th June 1886, the 27th July 1886, and the 15th March 1887, for the custody, supply, and sale of all kinds of stamps and stamped papers now in use, are published for general information. Those portions of the rules which apply to general and court-fee stamps are adopted and issued by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority conferred on him by section 55 of the Indian Stamp Act of 1879 and section 27 of the Indian Court-fees Act of 1870.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Rules for the custody, supply, and sale of stamps of all descriptions, namely, General stamps used to denote the duties payable under the Stamp Act, 1879; Court-fee stamps used to denote the fees payable under the Court-fees Act, 1870; Telegraph stamps and Postage stamps.

CENTRAL DEPÔTS.

1. There shall be three central depôts for stamps of all descriptions, in charge of the Superintendents of Stamps at Madras, Bombay, and Calcutta, respectively. These central depôts shall maintain a stock of stamps sufficient for two years' consumption. The Superintendents of Stamps in Madras and Bombay shall, for this purpose, forward, not later than the last week in September in each year, indents for the supply of the various descriptions of stamps required in the following year for the territories dependent on them for the supply of stamps to the Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta. The Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, shall prepare a general consolidated indent for stamps of all descriptions, showing separately the demand for the following year for each of the three presidencies, including in it the indents of the Superintendents of Stamps, Madras and Bombay; and shall forward this general indent to the Government of India, in the Financial Department, for transmission to the Secretary of State so as to reach him not later than the 1st November in each year. The Superintendent should forward a copy of the section of the general indent relating to Postage stamps to the Director-General of the Post Office, and of the section relating to Telegraph stamps to the Director-General of Telegraphs.

2. Stamps for the Madras Presidency, including Coorg, and local depôts subordinate to Madras, shall be supplied from the central depôt at Madras on the indent of the officers in charge of local depôts.

3. Stamps for the Presidency of Bombay, including Sindh, the Berars, the Central Provinces and local depôts subordinate to Bombay, shall be supplied from the central depôt, Bombay, on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

4. Stamps for the Bengal Presidency, including the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, Central India, Rajputana, Assam, and British Burma, and local depôts subordinate to Calcutta, shall be supplied from the central depôt, Calcutta, on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

5. The Superintendents of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, and Calcutta, on receiving an indent from a local depôt, shall have the indent examined to ascertain that the indent is such as to ensure the local depôts having a proper supply, and may comply with the indents in full or in part as he thinks fit. If he thinks that the indent should be increased, he should request the officer who submitted the indent to submit a supplementary indent. The Superintendents of Stamps should also, if the monthly statements of transactions (Rule 33) show that the balance of any kind of stamp in any local depôt is falling too low, call the attention of the officer in charge to the fact. The Presidency Post Offices of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay may indent for supplies on the central depôts.

LOCAL DEPÔTS.

6. Every treasury throughout India, including those attached to political and salt agencies, shall be a local depôt for the custody and sale of stamps of all descriptions. Local Governments may establish local depôts at places where there is no treasury.

7. Each local depôt shall, unless the Local Government otherwise directs, maintain a supply of stamps equal to the probable consumption of five months. Local Governments may direct that the supply to be maintained either generally or in respect of any particular kind of stamp or in certain local depôts shall be equal to the probable consumption of such other period as they deem expedient.

8. As soon as the number of stamps in the local depôt falls below the number issued from the depôt in the preceding six months, the officer in charge of the depôt shall prepare an indent for a supply equal to the probable consumption of three months.* The indent shall show in separate columns for each denomination of stamp of which a supply is required the total of the balance in the local depôt and any branch* depôts subordinate to it, the quantity sold in the preceding six months, and the quantity indented for, which should be approximately one-half of the quantity sold in the preceding six months. The periods of "six months" and "three months" of this rule may, like that of five months in Rule 7, be altered by Local Governments to such other periods as they may deem expedient. This indent will be forwarded direct to the Superintendents of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, or Calcutta, as the case may be; but the Local Government of any province may direct that the indents shall be forwarded through any other officer, such as the Superintendent of Stamps of the province, or that a copy of the indent shall be forwarded to such officer.

9. If the supply of stamps in any local depôt should run short before the receipt of the supply from the central depôt, the officer in charge of the local depôt should indent for a supply from a neighbouring depôt, sending a copy of the indent to the Superintendent or Commissioner of Stamps of the province, or such other officer as the Local Government may direct. It is the duty of the Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, or Calcutta, to report to the Local Government (or such authority as the Local Government may direct) in the case of General and Court-fee stamps, to the Director-General of the Post Office in the case of Postage stamps, and to the Director-General of Telegraphs in the case of Telegraph stamps, any case in which it may come to his knowledge that the stock of stamps in any local depôt of any description has fallen below the prescribed amount.

10. As soon as possible after the arrival of a supply of stamps from the central depôt or from another local depôt, the officer in charge of the local depôt shall have the boxes or packets opened in his presence, and the contents of each box or packet counted either by himself or in his presence immediately on being opened. The number of stamps received shall be compared by the officer in charge with the number in the invoice, and a receipt shall be sent as soon as possible to the officer who despatched the stamps.

11. Local Governments may issue such orders as may be thought necessary regarding the detailed counting of stamps received in a local depôt, and as to the descriptions of stamps which the officer in charge must count with his own hands. Such orders may include instructions that a certain percentage only of sealed packets marked as containing a certain number of stamps need be opened and counted at the time of receipt, and the remainder, if the percentage opened are all found correct, left with seals unbroken to be counted as they are required on being given out from double lock. The officer in charge is responsible for observing any such instructions and for satisfying himself as to the number of stamps received before signing the receipt.

12. If any of the stamps received are found to be unfit for issue, they should be at once returned to the Superintendent of Stamps. Stamps which are through any accident rendered unfit for issue at any time after receipt should be similarly returned to the Superintendent as soon as their unfitness is discovered. The necessary entries on account of stamps so returned should be made in the monthly statement (Rule 33,) and in the plus and minus memoranda (Rule 35).

13. Immediately after the stamps received have been counted, they shall be placed in proper receptacles in the store under double lock, arranged in parcels or packets containing known quantities, the amount of each denomination being entered in a register maintained to show the receipts and issues to and from the store under double lock.

14. The treasurer, or such other officer as the Local Government may direct, shall be the ex-officio vendor of all descriptions of stamps in each local depôt. Sales to the public or to licensed vendors shall not be made direct from the stores under double lock, such sales being made by the ex-officio vendor from the supply entrusted to him for this purpose to be kept by him under single lock, as prescribed in the following rules

15. The stock to be made over to the ex-officio vendor to be kept by him under single lock should ordinarily be sufficient for the probable demand of one month. On a fixed date near the beginning of each month the ex-officio vendor shall prepare an indent for the quantity required for the month in a form showing the balance in his hands, an average month's consumption, and the quantity required. When this indent is approved by the officer in charge, who should examine the balance under single lock, and ascertain that the quantities shown agree with the quantities shown in the indent, he shall give out the quantity required from the store under double lock. The same procedure shall be followed if any stamps should be required at any intermediate date. Local Governments may reduce the period of one month mentioned in this rule to one week or any other period less than a month if they consider this desirable with reference to the amount of the treasurer's security or for any other reason.

16. From the stock so made over to his charge and kept by him under single lock, the ex-officio vendor shall sell stamps to the public and to licensed vendors for cash. He shall keep in such language as the Local Government may direct any account of the daily sales for each of the four descriptions of stamps in a form showing for each denomination the balance in his hand at the beginning of the day, the quantity sold during the day, and the balance in his hand at the end of the day. He shall pay daily into the treasury the cash received by him for stamps sold, the amount realised on account of each of the four descriptions of stamps—namely, General, Court-fees, Postage, and Telegraph—being paid in separately. The account of daily sales should be inspected every day by the officer in charge of the depôt.

17. The rules regulating the grant of discount and the grant of licenses to licensed vendors for the sale of General and Court-fee stamps vary in different provinces, and are prescribed by Local Governments, subject to the general rule that no change in the rate of discount shall be made without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

18. Local Governments may direct that the sales to the public of General and Court-fee stamps by ex-officio vendors shall be limited to stamps of a value higher than named amount, the sale to the public of stamps of lower value being left to licensed vendors.

19. Telegraph stamps shall be sold to the public for cash by the ex-officio vendors, provided that the quantity of stamps sold to one person at one time shall not be less in value than Rs. 5, and that the quantity sold shall not include less than one rupee worth of any particular denomination. On such sales no discount is allowed.

20. Telegraph Masters shall obtain supplies of Telegraph stamps from the local depôts, subject to the same conditions in regard to the quantity supplied at one time as those of the preceding rule, and shall sell to the public Telegraph stamps of all descriptions and to any value. No discount is allowed to Telegraph Masters for the sale of stamps; but they are allowed permanent advances of Telegraph stamps without payment, the amount of the permanent advance being fixed by the Director-General of Telegraphs. When the permanent advance of Telegraph stamps has once been taken, subsequent issues to Telegraph Masters are made only on cash payment. But when the local depôt is closed for holidays of more than one day's duration, officers in charge of local depôts are authorized to issue Telegraph stamps to Telegraph Masters without payment in excess of the value of the permanent advance, these temporary advances being adjusted when the treasury re-opens by the return of the stamps, or the payment of their value if sold.

21. Service Postage stamps shall be sold for cash from local depôts to Government officials and to persons specially authorised to purchase and use service stamps on a written application. On such sales no discount is allowed.

22. Ordinary Postage stamps shall be sold to the public for cash from local depôts provided that the value sold to any person at one time shall not be less than Rs. 5, and shall not include any fraction of a rupee, and that embossed envelopes and post-cards shall be sold in complete packets only. No discount is allowed on such sales. Soldiers' envelopes are sold from certain selected local depôts only to Commanding Officers in complete packets, no discount being allowed.

23. The officer in charge of every post office, receiving office, tehsil, thana, and police-station at which letters are received for despatch, and every person licensed under the rules framed under the Stamp Act, 1879, to sell General stamps, are required to keep a supply of ordinary postage stamps for sale to the public, sufficient for the probable demands of one week. To such persons ordinary postage stamps, except soldiers' envelopes, are sold from local depôts for cash on the same conditions as to quantity as those prescribed in the preceding rule; and on such sales discount at the rate of quarter of an anna in the rupee is allowed.

23*a*. The officers in charge of post offices, receiving offices, tehsils, thanas and police stations at which letters are received for despatch, are also required to keep a supply of one-anna revenue stamps for sale to the public. To such officers one-anna revenue stamps are sold from local depôts on the same conditions as to quantity as those prescribed in Rule 22. On such sales discount at the rate of one-half anna in the rupee is allowed.

24. A District Officer may authorise the grant of discount at the same rate to any bonâ fide retail vendor of ordinary postage stamps, provided he is not employed in a Government treasury. Such authority shall be in writing, and shall remain in force for one year. It may contain conditions in all or any of the following respects, namely, the maintenance of a sufficient supply of stamps of all or any specified denominations of postage stamps for retail sale; the sale of the stamps at one or more particular shops or places, and the prohibition of sales at other shops or places; and the days and hours of sale. The District Officer shall keep a register showing the name, residence, and occupation of every person to whom he grants such authority.

25. Superintendents and Inspectors of Post Offices within their respective, jurisdictions, and any other officers of the Post Office authorized on that behalf by the Postmaster-General or Deputy Postmaster General, are empowered to examine the stock of postage stamps kept by any of the persons required or authorized to keep postage stamps for sale to the public under Rules 23 and 24.

BRANCH DEPÔTS.

26. Every subordinate, branch, or tehsil treasury shall be a branch depôt for the sale of stamps of all descriptions.

27. The sub-treasurer, or such other officer as the Local Government may direct, shall be the ex-officio vendor of stamps at a branch depôt.

28. The officer in charge of the branch depôt shall obtain his supplies from the local depôt to which the branch depôt is subordinate in the same manner as the ex-officio vendor at the local depôt obtains his supplies, except that the indent and the stamps must be sent by post or messenger to and from the local depôt; and that the examination of the balance in hand and the comparison of the amounts shown with those shown in the indent shall be done by the officer in charge of the branch depôt.

The ex-officio vendor shall obtain his supplies from the officer in charge of the branch depôt in the same manner as the ex-officio vendor at the local depôt obtains his supplies from the officer in charge.

29. The supply to be kept in a branch depôt should be equal to the probable demand for three months; but Local Governments may direct that the supply shall be equal to the demand of any other period instead of three months which they may consider expedient. The stock should be kept up to this amount by indenting and obtaining supplies from the local depôt from time to time as may be necessary.

30. Local Governments shall fix the period a supply sufficient for which shall be kept under single lock by the ex-officio vendor, and the remainder of the stamps in the branch depôt shall be kept under double lock of the officer in charge of the branch depôt and of the ex-officio vendor, and given out to single lock as required.

31. Sales from branch depôts will be made subject to the same rules as those from local depôts.

RETURNS TO AND BY THE SUPERINTENDENT OF STAMPS AND ACCOUNTANTS-GENERAL.

32. On the last open day of September and March each year, the officer in charge of each local depôt will count, or have counted in his presence, the stamps in the depôt, both those under double lock and those under single lock, and will require the officers in charge of the branch depôts subordinate to him similarly to count the stamps in the branch depôt. He will attach to the monthly statements for September and March rendered to the Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, or Calcutta, a certificate in the following form :—

The whole stock of certificates to Pleaders, Muktears, and Revenue Agents should, however, be in the depôt by the beginning of December.

The Collector of Calcutta should ordinarily maintain a supply equal to the probable consumption for one month.

Supplementary to Rule 11 of the Rules of the Government of India.

II(a). On the receipt of a supply of stamps in a local depôt from the central depôt or from any other local depôt, packets or boxes containing stamps above the value of (eight) 8 annas shall be opened, one at a time, and within the day after their receipt at the latest, in the presence of the officer in charge, who shall count every stamp of the value of Rs. 8 and upwards. Stamps of the value of less than Rs. 8 shall be counted in the presence of the officer in charge. The number and value of the stamps received shall then be compared with the invoice, so that any deficiency may at once be detected. Packets containing stamps of the value of (eight) 8 annas and less shall be closely inspected by the officer in charge in order to ascertain that they have not been opened or tampered with in transit; and if they do not present any suspicious appearance, they shall be taken as containing the full number of stamps stated in the invoice and locked up in the stamp-chests or presses with a copy of the invoice and the letter of advice. A receipt shall then be forwarded by the first post to the depôt from which the stamps have been supplied. Under Rule 11 of the Rules prescribed by the Government of India, the officer in charge is responsible for carefully observing these instructions and for satisfying himself as to the number of stamps before signing the receipt.

CIVIL ENGINEERS' PROVIDENT FUND.

I.—The institution of a Provident Fund under the conditions specified in Rule II is sanctioned for the following officers of the Public Works and Telegraph Departments :—

1. Civil Engineers on the effective list of the Public Works Department.
2. Civil Engineers transferred to the Accounts Branch, or the Superior Railway Revenue Establishment, or to foreign service under Chapter III of the Civil Pension Code.
3. All civil members of the Superior Accounts Establishment who are not Civil Engineers.
4. Superior civil officers of the Indian Telegraph Department.

II.—The conditions under which these officers will join the fund are as follow :—

(1) The monthly deposit may be not less than 5 per cent. and not more than 10 per cent. on the salary (as defined in the Financial Codes) of each depositor for that month.

(2) In the case of officers in the Public Works Department on the 4th February 1885, or in the Telegraph Department on the 13th October 1886, the deposits will be voluntary, and may be discontinued and renewed at the option of the depositor. Those who wish to join the fund may pay up arrears within the authorized limits from the commencement of service, or from any shorter time, in one sum, interest on which will be allowed from the date of payment. But officers joining either of these Departments after the dates given above for the Department concerned must contribute 5 per cent. of their salary to the fund, and may contribute up to 10 per cent. of salary. Apprentices may contribute to the fund, but will not be compelled to do so.

(3) An officer on leave of any kind may, at his option, subscribe any sum he pleases, subject to a minimum of 5 per cent. on his leave allowances, and a maximum of 10 per cent. on the salary he would draw if on duty.

NOTE.—When an officer's leave allowances are drawn in India, the subscriptions will be dealt with as usual on audit of pay bills—see paragraph IV. When, however, they are payable out of India, or when an officer is on leave without allowances, he can contribute such amount as he pleases between the minimum and maximum as above, but must make his own arrangements for the payments.

(4) Compound interest at 4 per cent. on such payments will be annually credited by Government to each officer subscribing.

(5) The sum which will thus accumulate to the credit of an officer will be his absolute property, to be handed over to him unconditionally on quitting the service, or, in the event of his death before retirement, to his legal representatives.

Administration of the fund.

III.—The deposits received under the foregoing resolution will be placed in a Government Savings Bank named "Civil Engineers' Provident Fund." The administration of the fund will rest with the Government of India in the Public Works Department.

Receipts of deposits.

IV.—Deposits will be received in the case of officers of the Public Works Department by the various Examiners of Public Works and Railway Accounts throughout India, and in the case of officers of the Telegraph Department by the Examiner of Telegraph Accounts. They will be recovered by deduction from the pay bills, or may be made in cash. Deposits cannot, except in the cases provided for in the next rule, be made otherwise than through an Examiner or an Executive Engineer or Divisional Superintendent of Telegraphs who is in account with an Examiner.

V.—An officer who is not on the books of any Examiner, but receives his allowances either from the Civil Department or from a local fund or a Foreign State, may, if he has already been admitted as a depositor, pay his contributions either in cash into the nearest treasury, or, if he is paid by the Civil Department, by deduction from his salary bill. He must in either case specify the number of his account. His contributions will be passed on by the Civil Accountant-General, in the case of an officer of the Public Works Department to the Examiner, Public Works Accounts of the Province, and in the case of an officer of the Telegraph Department, to the Examiner of Telegraph Accounts. The Examiner to whom the contributions are passed on will exercise the responsibility mentioned in Rule IX.

An officer of this class who has not already been admitted must apply for admission (and assignment of number) to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department.

NOTE.—For the purposes of this rule, so far as concerns officers of the Public Works Department, the Examiner for the Province is, in the case of India Treasuries, the Examiner of Military Works Accounts.

Withdrawals.

VI.—No withdrawal will ordinarily be allowed from the deposit until the depositor quits the service or dies. But on Local Governments or Administrations being satisfied that the pecuniary circumstances of a depositor are such that the indulgence is absolutely necessary, a deposit may be temporarily withdrawn under orders issued by the respective Local Governments and Administrations—

(i) to pay for the passage of the depositor going on leave out of India on medical certificate or returning after such absence;

(ii) to pay for the passage of any member of the depositor's family coming from beyond the sea, to join him, or going beyond the sea, sick, or from some urgent cause.

A withdrawal thus sanctioned will be made after reference to the Comptroller-General to ascertain that it is covered by the amount at credit.

NOTE.—In the case of depositors of Telegraph Department, the Director-General of Telegraphs exercises the powers of a Local Government.

VII.—Withdrawals under Rule VI will be recovered in 20 equal monthly instalments compulsorily deducted from salary in addition to contributions under Rule II whenever full salary is drawn, until the whole is refunded. Such instalments may be paid in advance.

Deceased depositors.

VIII.—The balances of deceased depositors will be paid according to Rules 51 and 52, Chapter 21 of the Civil Account Code, 4th edition, and Act V of 1873.

Rules 51 and 52 of Chapter 21 of the Civil Account Code, 4th edition:—

51.—The cases of decease and lunacy of depositors are provided for by Act V of 1873.

As regards deceased depositors, Act V of 1873, applies to those balances only which do not exceed Rs. 1,000. Balances in excess of Rs. 1,000 should be paid on production of probate, letters of administration, or a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, unless otherwise ordered by the Local Government, which has a discretionary power to dispense with such evidence in cases where it is of opinion that to require it would cause hardship, and to dispense with it would involve no appreciable risk.

52.—When repayment is made of a deposit belonging to the estate of a depositor deceased, the list of deposits repaid must be supported by a certificate from the Secretary, setting forth that probate of the deceased's will or letters of administration to his or her estate, or a certificate granted under Act XXVII of 1860 (see Form 62) in favour of the actual payee, has not been produced before him.

1. Form 63 is prescribed for certificate under section 8 of Act V of 1873 (Savings Banks Act) required for proceedings regarding deceased depositors' estates.

Responsibility of Examiners.

IX.—For the proper admission of depositors, the correct realization of the receipts, and the admission and payment of the withdrawals, the Examiners, as audit officers, will be entirely responsible. The functions of the Comptroller-General are purely those of keeping the account of the receipts and withdrawals as reported by the Examiners.

Examiner's account of deposit.

X.—All sums received from depositors will be credited, and all sums withdrawn will be charged by the Examiners under the head "Civil Engineers' Provident Fund."

XI.—The Examiner will, at the end of each month, forward to the Comptroller-General, Savings Bank Department, a statement, in Public Works Department Form No. 82A, of the sums he has received on account of the fund. This statement will contain (1) the dates of receipt; (2) the numbers of the depositors' accounts; (3) names and official designations of the depositors; and (4) amounts of deposits. The total of this statement must agree with the corresponding credit in the Examiner's account as rendered to the Accountant-General. For number of depositor's account see below, Rule XV.

Examiner's account of withdrawals.

XII.—The Examiner will similarly forward a monthly statement of withdrawals in Public Works Department Form No. 82B. This statement will give the following particulars, and the total of it must agree with the corresponding debit in the Examiner's monthly account as rendered to the Accountant-General:—(1) dates of payments; (2) number of depositors' accounts; (3) names and official designations; (4) amounts paid; (5) number and date of the orders of the Local Government or Administration for payment as prescribed in Rule VI. For number of account see below, Rule XV.

The Accountant-General will, together with his monthly account, send to the Comptroller-General a complete statement, by Examiners, of the total receipts and withdrawals on account of the Provident Fund.

Accounts of Fund to be transferred annually to the books of Examiner, Military Works Accounts.

XIII.—The yearly receipts and charges on account of the Civil Engineers' Provident Fund will be cleared from the books of the various Examiners by transfer to those of the Examiner of Accounts, Military Works, in whose books, consequently, the transactions of the whole Fund will be recorded.

Depositors' ledger.

XIV.—The account of each depositor will be posted in a ledger, to be kept by the Comptroller-General, Savings Bank Branch. The ledger will be closed as soon as possible after the 31st March of each year.

Numbers of depositors' accounts.

XV.—Every account in this ledger will receive a distinct number. The number so given to the depositors' accounts will be consecutive. When a new depositor is admitted, the Comptroller-General will, on reference, notify to the Examiner concerned, or in the case of depositors not on the books of any Examiner, to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, the number to be given to his account, and this number will be quoted against all further deposits, and all withdrawals in the statements prescribed in Rules XI and XII. A depositor's number will not be altered, nor will the numbers of closed accounts be given to new depositors. In the event of the depositor's transfer, the number will be noted on his last-pay certificate, in order that the next Examiner may be able to quote it in his deposit statements. The amount contributed during the last six months prior to transfer should also be noted on the last-pay certificate.

Interest.

XVI.—Interest will be allowed for each calendar month upon the minimum balance of the depositor's account, between the close of the fourth day and the end of the month. In calculating interest under this rule, the deposits received by deduction from salary will be considered as paid into the Fund on the 1st of the month succeeding that for which the salaries from which the deductions are made are due. The interest will be calculated monthly as provided for in the form of ledger, but will not be added to the principal until the end of the official year, except when the account is to be finally closed, in which case the interest will be paid, after reference, as prescribed in the next section.

Closing of account.

XVII.—When an account is to be closed, the Examiner who at the time is charged with the receipt of the deposits will submit to the Comptroller-General a statement of the transactions of the past four months, certifying them to agree with the debits and credits in his accounts (or submitting such certificate of any other Examiner in whose accounts they were included), and will apply for an order for payment of interest and principal up to date. The account will be made up in advance by the Comptroller-General, and issued in the Form A attached, with an order directing the debit.

Addition of interest.

XVIII.—The amount of interest to be added to the balance of the Fund will be calculated each year by the Comptroller-General, who will issue a direction to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, to credit the amount to the Fund by debit to Civil Department in the Exchange account between the Comptroller, India Treasuries and the Examiner of Accounts, Military Works. This transaction must include the debits on account of interest paid during the year on closed accounts, which, during the currency of the year, is debited to the Fund itself.

Yearly advice to depositors.

XIX.—As soon as possible after receiving the March accounts of the Accountant-General Public Works Department, the Comptroller-General will make up each depositor's account, with interest, to March 31st, and will send him through the Examiner in whose account his last subscription was received, a statement of his account in Form A annexed, or in some similar form. Depositors are required to satisfy themselves as to the correctness of these statements; and unless errors in them are brought to the notice of the Comptroller-General within one month from the date of their receipt, Government will not be responsible for any sums not thus acknowledged.

XX.—Any depositor may, once in the official year, but not oftener, receive, on application to the Comptroller-General, a copy of his account for the last official year, and for so many months of the current year as may have been posted and agreed with the accounts of the Department.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,—BENGAL

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 280.

The 10th of August 1887.

THE annual accounts and reports of the Road Cess Committees of the districts of Burdwan, Bankoora, Beerbhoom, Midnapore, and Hooghly, for the cess year 1885-86, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, are published for general information.

W. B. BESTIC,
Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

No. 102, dated Burdwan, the Jauuary 1887.

From—T. E. COXHEAD, Esq., Chairman, District Board, Burdwan,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual road cess report of works done and in progress during the cess year 1885-86, together with the detailed accounts of receipts and expenditure prepared by the Vice-Chairman and examined and certified to by the Finance Committee.

2. The total demand and collections of cesses for the year is shown in the report submitted by the Collector with his No. 240, dated 24th November last.

3. The year opened with a balance of Rs. 32,835-8-4, and closed with a balance in hand of Rs. 16,003-14-7. It is needless to dwell on the details of the receipts and expenditure, as the enclosed accounts supply the necessary particulars.

4. Original works.—It appears from the District Engineer's report that the construction of the bridge over the Choonee khal on the second section of Dewangunge and Culna road, and a temporary wooden bridge over the Khurry river, on the Burdwan and Cutwa road, were completed during the year, and that part of earthwork to be done on the Kurmoon extension road has been furnished.

5. The construction of a bridge over the Tumla khal on the Undal to Ukhra road was not finished, as the contractor failed to provide materials of sufficiently good quality; and when his contract was cancelled the season was far advanced to permit any other arrangement being made for the carrying out of the work. The work on the Buddipur to Culna road could not be taken up in hand, as the estimate for the road was sanctioned very late in the year.

6. The trees already planted on 84 miles of road were maintained during the year, and one hundred new trees were planted on the Cutwa and Sooree road, and the tree nursery at Negone was replenished.

Burdwan to Jehanabad.
Pandua to Culna.
Burdwan to Culna (second section).

7. With the exception of the roads noted on the margin, the repairs to all the other roads undertaken are reported to have been completed during the year, though final payments for some roads have not yet been made.

8. It is reported that the contractor of the Burdwan to Jehanabad road failed to collect a sufficient quantity of metal to complete the repairs by the close of the year, and that the contractor of the roads from Burdwan to Culna (second section) and Pandua to Culna failed to complete the works until after the close of the year.

9. Village roads.—Rupees 7,500 for the Sudder sub-division and Rs. 2,500 for each of the other sub-divisions were allotted for improving village roads. It appears that out of the above allotments, the following sums were spent, though the accounts of actual expenditure of the same were not received during the year—

		Rs.
Sudder	sub-division	7,205
Cutwa	,, ...	2,500
Culna	,, ...	2,500
Raneegunge	,, ...	850

The Chairman, Branch Road Committee of Culna, raised a local subscription of Rs. 165 in addition to the above allotment, and spent the whole amount, Rs. 2,665.

The Chairman, Branch Road Committee of Ranigunge, spent only about one-third of the allotment made for his sub-division. He states that the reason of this inadequate expenditure is due to the illness of the Vice-Chairman for three-fourths of the year, the illness of another useful member, who has since died, and the apathy of the other members. The expenditure for the other sub-divisions does not call for any remark.

10. Establishment.—The District Engineer Mr. E. A. Stoney's work and the work of the various members of the establishment has been satisfactory.

No. 164, dated Bankoora, the 23rd March 1887.

From—W. V. G. TAYLER, Esq., Chairman, District Board, Bankoora,

To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the Annual Administration Report of the late Bankoora District Road Fund for the cess year 1885-86, commencing from 1st October 1885 to 30th September 1886.

* * * *

3. The District Committee consisted of 17 members—5 official and 12, non-official—at the commencement of the year, but by the appointment of Mr. Whiffin the personnel of the Committee was increased to 18 members since December 1885. Towards the close of the year, however, several members ceased to be such, having been absent at six consecutive meetings of the Committee.

4. Owing to the introduction of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act III (B.C.) of 1885 into this district from the 1st of October last, the existence of the District Road Cess Committee terminated along with the cess year 1885-86, on the 30th September 1886. It has now been succeeded by the District Board, almost half of which were members of the former Road Cess Committee.

5. There were eight meetings of the District Road Cess Committee during the year under report, at which an average of 6 5 members attended. The attendance of all the official members excepting that of the Executive Engineer whose head-quarters is at Chinsura, was satisfactory, whereas that of the non-official members was not so.

6. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Bishenpore reports that the Branch Committee met only once during the year, and that, with the exception of the Vice-Chairman, none of the members took any interest in the business of the Committee.

7. The road cess was levied at the maximum rate in the district during the year under report. It was realized on the whole, without much difficulty from all revenue-paying and revenue-free estates, excepting the Ghatwali estates. Out of the gross demand of Rs. 52,931 from lands and mines, Rs. 41,798 (inclusive of the amount collected in advance on account of the demand of this year, but exclusive of the amount collected on account of future year) were realized up to the end of the year, and Rs. 3 remitted, leaving a balance of Rs. 11,130 unrealized: of this Rs. 2,416 were outstanding against Ghatwaliand Rs. 8,714 against revenue-paying and revenue-free estates, including lakhraj lands valued under section 68 of Act IX (B C.) of 1880.

8. Revaluation—The sanction of the Board of Revenue and of the Government of Bengal, was received at different times to revalue 504 estates in this district (313 revenue-paying and 191 revenue free). These 504 estates represent almost the whole district, viz. 7-8ths of the acreage of the revenue free-parts of the old district and about 18-19ths of the transferred tracts.

9. The valuation of 23 estates and 7,116 tenures has been completed during the year, against 38 estates and 7,891 tenures in the previous year. Besides this, 158 small rent-free tenures and 187 jalkar tenures or fisheries were exempted during the year, the former as being below Rs. 5 in value, and the latter under the orders of the Board of Revenue, as conveyed in their circular No. 5 of January 1884. The decrease in the number of tenures valued is due to the difficulty in obtaining boundaries of the lakhraj lands valued under section 68 of the Cess Act. Thus up to the end of September 1886, 467 estates and 32,501 tenures (including 9,418 lakraj tenures valued directly under section 68 of the Act) have been valued, and 27 estates have been exempted, leaving only 8 estates to be yet revalued and about 3,000 rent-free tenures to be valued under section 68 of the Act. The eight estates, including the two largest estates in the district, Bishenpore and Barohazari have been revalued since the close of the year; but the valuation statements of Bishenpore and Barohazari, which contain no less than 13,000 tenures are still being written up.

10. The work of revaluation is therefore completed, and the establishment is now chiefly occupied with the valuation of the remaining lakhraj tenures

11. All the above 467 estates and 32,501 tenures have been valued on returns after due enquiry, and not one was valued summarily.

12. A net increase of Rs. 2,36,051 has been effected in the annual value of the estates and tenures valued up to the end of September 1886. This increase is of course exclusive of the increase of about Rs. 1,50,000 effected in the annual value of the tenures comprised in estates Bishenpore and Barohazari, the revaluation of which was not completed within the year under report.

13. On the other hand decided relief has been given to those suffering from summary valuation, as is evident from the fact that there has been a net decrease of Rs. 24,852 in the annual value of the estates which were valued summarily at the time of the original valuation.

14. Of the rent-free tenures covered by the petitions made under section 67 of the Cess Act, 1880, 9,418 have been valued and 500 exempted from assessment as being below Rs. 5 in value up to the end of September 1886 All the above 9,418 rent-free tenures, as already stated, have been valued on returns after taking boundaries in each case from the owners, and the total annual value assessed thereon is Rs. 1,57,478, yielding a total cess of Rs. 9,842. Making all reasonable allowance I have reason to expect an increase of revenue not less than Rs. 14,000 from the lakhraj lands alone valued directly under section 68.

15. The procedure adopted by the Deputy Collector is the same as followed in the previous years. He has, by his usual scrutinizing enquiry and testing of the returns, been able to effect a large increase in the annual value of the khas lands. He has also been able to class 4,314 persons who were wrongly returned as mere cultivating rayats, as tenure-holders, under section 26 of the Act, and thereby to secure an increase of Rs 1,37,815 in the annual value of the lands To tenure-holders in part III and lakhrajdars in part IV, he issued notices invariably.

16. Baboo Siti Kanta Ghose, Deputy Collector, was in charge of the department throughout the year, and great credit is due to him for the favourable results above-mentioned.

ORIGINAL WORKS.

17. The following are the works of an important nature that were executed or in progress under the head "original works."

(1). Bridge on the 6th mile of Bankoora and Taldangra road.—This work was let out in contract during the previous year, but in consequence of the excessive rain the Committee postponed the work to the year under report. The work has now been finished and finally paid for.

(2). Construction of the first two miles of Taldangra and Simlapal road.—The work has been completed, but the final bill has not yet been submitted.

Sanction to the project for the construction of the remaining portion of the line of road from beyond the first two miles up to Simlapal has been obtained from Government The work of acquiring the required quantity of land is in progress under the Land Acquisition Deputy Collector. The work will be commenced ere long.

(3). Indpore and Khatra road.—This is a line of road joining the Khatra police station where there is also a munsifi to Bankoora. Under a previous estimate the first five miles of the road from Khatra to Rangametia were constructed at a cost of Rs. 5,557-12. A project for the construction of the remaining portion of the road from Rangametia to Indpore was sanctioned by Government, and the work has been already let out in contract. Possession of land has been taken by the Land Acquisition Deputy Collector and the work of construction has been commenced.

(4). Indas and Kotulpore Road.—The diversion of a portion of this road near Indas was effected during the year under report. The diversion has cost Rs. 598-9-1.

(5). Raipore and Salbani Road.—The project for this important line of communication has been sanctioned by Government. Arrangements for acquiring lands are in progress under the Land Acquisition Deputy Collector.

(6). Onda and Chabra Road.—An estimate for the bridging and metalling of this line of road amounting to Rs. 2,090 was sanctioned. Mr. Sceales on behalf of his company, Messrs. Gisborne and Company, has very handsomely contributed towards this work, viz. Rs 638-2 The work has been completed and finally paid for during the year

18 The other works worthy of notice under the head "original works" are the construction of village roads and the planting of trees on the road sides.

19. In the Sudder sub-division the allotment for village roads was Rs. 1,500, and in the Bishenpore sub-division Rs. 7,685 for the year under report. The reason for the allotment of such a large sum in the Bishenpore sub-division was that during the year before large sums were advanced for the improvement of village communications, only to provide work for the needy labourers who were hardly pressed in consequence of partial failure of crops in that tract of the district. All these advances were outstanding pending the receipt of detailed accounts. These were received during the year under report, and finally passed of by the Committee at their meeting held on the 30th September 1886. The Committee sanctioned 10 estimates for village roads within the Sudder sub-division amounting to a cost of Rs. 1,329, of which six villagers have provided an aid of Rs. 186. There were only some advances made on account of these roads, none of which have, however, been completed; consequently no expenditure has been shown under the village roads in the Sudder sub-division.

20. In the Bishenpore sub-division only three new village roads were constructed during the year.

21. The improvement of these village communications is very beneficial to the people, both in point of means of communication and sanitation. Owing to the shortness of funds much could not be done, however, in this respect.

22. The planting of trees received also due share of attention within the year. There were no new plantings, but the trees that were planted previously were properly maintained. On most of the roads the work was done by paid coolies; only in a few the tree planting was done by piece work agreement system. The total number of trees that were maintained during the year were 4,631. The state of the trees in general is reported to be good

23. All the existing roads of the district were repaired as usual during the year.

24. During my last cold weather tour I visited almost all the roads and their state was on the whole found to be fair.

25. The Sub-Divisional Officer reports that the condition of the roads lying within his sub-division is fairly good. He speaks also of some defects in the most important road, a railway feeder, from Bishenpore to Panighar, and complains of the very bad state of the ghats of the Jasoda khall, specially during the rainy season. His suggestion as to the appointment of a permanent set of coolies to look after and remove defects and inconveniences like these will receive due attention by the Board.

26. Character of officers.—The Vice-Chairman, Baboo Pratap Narayan Singh has continued to discharge his duties satisfactorily. The District Engineer, Baboo Naba Gopal Banerjee too has given satisfaction in the performance of his duties, so much so that the Committee recommended him for increase of pay. I have nothing to add to what I reported last year in regard to the efficiency of the Accountant, Baboo Bama Charan De, who has been as usual most useful to the Committee.

EXPLANATORY NOTE ACCOMPANYING THE ANNUAL ACCOUNTS OF THE DISTRICT ROAD CESS COMMITTEE FOR THE CESS YEAR 1885-86.

Establishments—The excess cost over the budget allotments under the heads "Establishment of collection office." "Administration," "Establishment of Public Works," and "Staging bunglow establishment" is due to the fact that the pay of all establishments for the month of September last was in consequence of the Durga Puja holidays paid on the 30th of the same month under the Accountant-General's circular.

Public Works—Original Works. Road No. 14, Baliatore to Damooda.—The excess over the budget grant is due to the fact that a culvert broken by the recent flood had to be rebuilt with sufficient waterway. The necessary cost was sanctioned by the Committee at their meeting held on the 5th April 1886, to be met from the allotment under head "Probable balance."

Road No. 33, Indas to Kotulpore.—There were two estimates sanctioned by the Committee during the year before, one for the construction of a barrel culvert amounting to Rs. 129, and another for diversion of the road near Indas amounting to Rs. 456, inclusive of the estimated cost (Rs 241) for acquiring lands In the budget estimate of the Committee the allotment was only Rs. 500 or less by Rs. 85 than the sanctioned estimated cost, because it was then considered that the percentage deductions on account of low tender, together with the anticipated savings in the item of land acquisition would make up the small difference of Rs. 85. In fact, however, the contractor for the road diversion, who offered a very low rate, declined to do the work, on the ground that the necessary lands were not acquired within the stipulated time, and arrangements had to be made with another contractor to have the work done at the estmated rates after the land acquisition work was finished.

On the other side the estimated cost of acquiring lands was found to be quite inadequate and was exceeded actually by Rs. 162-1-1; Rs. 130-1-1 in the compensation of lands and Rs 32 in paying remuneration to clerks entertained under the sanction of Collector.

The excess cost of land acquisition was duly sanctioned by Government of Bengal, vide their No. 950L.C., dated 5th May 188 , and by the Board of Revenue in their No. 332A, dated 26th May 188 . Thus, instead of the anticipated savings in the estimates there is an excess of Rs. 136-12-7 over the sanctioned estimate, or Rs 221-12-7 over the budget allotment. As the final payment for diversion work was made on the 30th September the sanction of the Committee could not be taken during the cess year 1885-86. The sanction of the Board (the Road Cess Committee being no longer in existence) will be taken.

Repairs.—Road No 2. Bankoora to Roghunathpore.—The excess over the budget allotment is due to the payment on account of flood damage repairs to the road sanctioned by the Committee at their meeting held on the 30th December 1885.

Road No. 5.—The excess is due to the flood damage repairs to the bridges sanctioned by the Committee on the above-named date.

Road No. 14.—The excess is due to the payment of an unfinished work of the previous year re-sanctioned by the Committee on the above date.

47. The excess cost was sanctioned by the Committee at their meeting on the 5th April 1886.

No. 53, dated Soory, the 31st January 1887.

From—W. FIDDIAN, Esq., Chairman, District Board, Beerbhoom,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual report of the Beerbhoom District Road Fund operations for the cess year 1885-86, together with the account of receipts and disbursements.

2. In the year under review the number of members of the Road Cess Committee was 16, of whom five were Europeans, and there were four official to 12 non-official members.

3. The number of meetings held during the year was eight, including one at which there was no quorum. Of the members, two were absent throughout the year; but as the Road Cess Committee has ceased to exist, there is no occasion to take any action under section 115 of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880.

4. The members residing in or about the town generally attended, but the attendance of those who reside at a distance cannot be considered satisfactory. A fair amount of interest has been taken in the business of the Committee.

5. The roads maintained in this district are as follow:—

Class I.—Metalled roads, 116 miles.
Class II.—Raised roads, bridged but unmetalled, 190½ miles.
Class III.—Raised roads, not bridged and unmetalled, 77 miles.
Class IV.—All other roads, 107½ miles.

6. The different establishments both in the Collection and the Executive Departments continued the same as in the previous year.

7. The percentage of fixed charges for establishment during the year was 19 per cent. against 18 in the previous year.

8. The actual cash balance at the close of the year preceding was Rs. 22,231-15-1, including Rs. 127-12, in the hand of the District Engineer, being balance of his imprest cash. Of this large balance, Rs. 16,421-2-3 was for works of the cess year 1883-84 which remained unpaid in consequence of non-presentation of the bills during the year, and sanction for the disbursement of the above amount after the close of the said year was obtained from your office, as per a supplementary Budget submitted with this office No. 418, dated the 17th December 1885.

9. Road cess was levied at the full rate of one-half anna in the rupee, and the cess collections during the year were satisfactory.

10. The current demand of the year amounted to Rs. 55,873, and the arrear demand from last year Rs. 8,617, making a total or gross demand of Rs. 64,490 for realization. A sum of Rs. 58,201 has been realized during the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 6,289 uncollected at the end of the year, including remission of Rs. 1,183. Rs. 2,100 has since been realized.

11. The contribution from Government Rs. 19,622 incurred on famine relief work, and entered both as receipt and as a disbursement, was simply an adjustment as per your No. 122, dated the 19th April 1886.

I.—Metalled Roads.

12. The whole of the above roads having an aggregate length of 112 miles were repaired during the year.

II.—Unmetalled roads.

13. There is a total mileage of 382½ of unmetalled roads in the district. Of this length 228 miles are in class II, raised roads, bridged but not metalled, the remaining being tracks under classes III and IV

Original works.

14. The following works were executed and completed during the year :—

Road No. 8 Cynthea to Mohesha ... Iron girder bridge of 11 feet span.
Road No. 22 Doobrajpore to Khyrasole... Three feet culvert.
Road No. 39, Laghata to Kalgram ... Four bridges on this road, viz. one of 15 feet and three of 12 feet span have had their timber tops and hand rails replaced with iron girders, plates and rails. A further section of about 3 miles was being metalled this year.
Road No. 45, Mourcsher to Muller ... Iron girder bridge of 11 feet span.
Road No. 16, Chunderpore to Tantipara... Three feet culvert.
Road No. 47G, Muraroe to Pulsa ... A culvert of 8 feet span.
Road No. 62, Panchgachi to Nowada ... Two culverts of 8 feet span.
Road No. 30, Bolepore to Bengchuttra ... An iron girder bridge of two spans of 11 feet each was constructed and open for traffic.

Eleven stoneware pipe culverts of 15 inches diameter have been built on petitions from ryots for irrigation purposes.

Repairs to Bridges and Culverts.

15. Thirty-five bridges and culverts have been repaired.

On the whole the roads are in good condition, though there is still much room for improvement. Most of the roads were inspected by the Divisional Superintendent of Works in January last, whose remarks on the condition of the roads have been attended to.

16. During the year I have seen a considerable portion of the roads, and any defect in their condition has been noticed in my tour report and brought to the notice of the District Engineer for remedy. I note here also the gradual disappearance of the old unsafe palm-tree bridges which have been replaced by iron girder bridges. During the year there has been a satisfactory increase in the number of substantial bridges.

Bungalows.

17. The inspection and staging bungalows, ten in number, have been repaired and are all in good order.

Arboriculture.

18. Operations under this head have been carried on, on the following roads :—

No. 1. Sooree to Cynthia.
„ 4. Sooree to Rajnagore.
„ 6. Sooree to Doobrajpore.
„ 7. Roads round the Sudder station.
„ 8. Cynthia to Mohesha.
„ 13. Sooree to Kaddia.
„ 29. Bolepore to Sacolipore.
„ 30. Bolepore to Bengchuttra.
No. 34. Soorool to Ganotea.
„ 38. Ahmedpore to Laghata.
„ 39. Laghata to Kalgram.
„ 47E Ramporehat to Nalhati.
„ 51. Ramporehat station roads.
„ 52. Muraroe to Mittrapore.
„ 53. Nalhati to Nowada.

The work has been departmentally done, nurseries have been established at the several inspection bungalows and at head-quarters. It is proposed to keep the young trees in thrive until they are fairly well grown. This will save expense in the matter of protecting plants by cages. Mango trees chiefly have been planted, but last season, as an experiment, the District Engineer had a few lopped boughs of Bhair (Ficus Indica) and peepul (F Religiosa) planted ; the result has been fairly successful, as about 75 per cent. have taken root and are doing well. The boughs were of 12 inches girth. The number of trees planted during the year was 3,932, and the number now alive and growing well is 3,464. The charges incurred on account of arboriculture amounted to Rs. 651-9-9.

19. The District Engineer has given much attention to the improvement of the main lines of communication by substituting permanent bridges for temporary ones, and adding bridges where there were none existing previously. The Sub-overseers have worked satisfactorily.

BEERBHOOM,

The 18th March 1887.

F. H. SKRINE,

Chairman, District Board, Beerbhoom.

No. 595, dated Midnapore, the 7th March 1887.

From—R. CORNISH, Esq., Chairman, District Board, Midnapore,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual account and report of the Midnapore District Road Fund for the cess year 1885-86.

2. The annual accounts were duly examined and audited by the Finance Committee.

* * * * * * * *

4. * * The percentage of average attendance of members was 42·9, while that of the previous year was 43·7. During the year under report there were three meetings of the Branch Committee at Tumlook, four at Ghattal and one at Contai. In all the meetings of the Branch Committee, there was a quorum.

5. The following are the most important original works that were constructed or were in course of construction during the year under report:—

(a) Materials for construction of a bridge of 4 spans each of 30′-4″ over the Rohar khal on the 22nd mile of Road No. 3, Ladhasye to Paribatty, and for renewal of platform and construction of two additional spans to the bridge over Gaburdhun khal on the 22nd mile of Road No. 6, Burdwan road, are being collected.

(b) The 10th and 11th mile of Road No. 5, Ghattal to Chunderkona, have been raised and widened.

(c) Materials for the construction of a bridge over Baromesha khal in the 10th mile of Road No. 8 from Gurbetta to Ramghur, and for the construction of bridges and culverts on road No. 10, Satbankoorah to Gowaltore, are being collected.

(d) The bridge over the Jashpore khal on road No. 12 Dohijuree to Sildah, has almost been completed.

(e) A portion of road No. 23, from Kheerpoy to Buddengunge, and of road No. 15, from Debrah to Ghattal, has been raised and widened.

(f) Arrangements made for acquiring lands for the construction of road No. 77 from Balichuck to Sobung.

6. Trees planted on both sides of the principal roads have been maintained, and their growth appears, on the whole, satisfactory.

7. All the important roads of this district were kept during the year in good and drivable order, and repaired as far as funds were available. The unmetalled roads were also all maintained during the year and kept fit for wheel traffic.

8. A statement showing the number and length of village roads repaired and constructed during the year is given below:—

Name of sub-division.	Name of village roads repaired and constructed during the year 1885-86.	Approximate length of the village roads.	Actual expenditure incurred during the year 1885-86.	Remarks.
			Rs. A. P.
Sudder sub-division ...	72	192	8,952 3 0
Contai ditto ...	41	106½	4,882 7 0
Ghattal ditto ...	12	30¼	3,397 7 0
Tumlook ditto ...	22	99	4,905 15 0
Total ...	147	427⅜	22,138 0 0

9. Work on village roads has been carried out chiefly by village punchaets under the supervision of the Sub-divisional officers and the members of the Branch Committees, and in some cases by contractors where suitable local agency was not found.

10. The establishment under the Committee worked very well and hard. The District Engineer gave me complete satisfaction, and among the subordinates, I would specially mention Baboo Chunder Siker Dass.

12. The books and accounts of the Committee were regularly kept, and the auditor was satisfied with the manner in which the accounts were entered in the books.

13. The collections of road cess during the year under report were Rs. 1,61,413-5-8, against Rs. 1,46,992-1-3 in the preceding year. Baboo Upendro Chunder Mookerjee, the Road Cess Deputy Collector, was in charge of collection work throughout the year, and deserves much credit for the good collections.

Explanatory Memorandum to accompany the Annual Accounts.

Expenditure side—The expenditure as shown in the annual account under the heads of "Original" and "Repairs" is Rs. 26,048-9-6 and Rs. 1,12,537-1, while the expenditure in the monthly accounts against those heads amounts to Rs. 26,078-1-6 and Rs. 1,12,507-9 respectively, that is the expenditure of original work is less by Rs. 29-8 and that of repairs exceeds by the same amount. The reason of this difference is owing to the fact that materials worth Rs. 29-8 were at first bought and charged to original work, and subsequently after the submission of the accounts the materials were transferred to the head of "Repairs" and used in repairing the bridges.

BEPIN BEHARY DUTT,
Vice Chairman.

No. 277, dated Hooghly, the 5th February 1887.

From—G. TOYNBEE, ESQ., C.S., Chairman of the District Road Committee, Hooghly
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the report on the administration of the Hooghly and Howrah District Road Fund for the cess year 1885-86.

2. * * * The District Committee had six meetings, the Howrah Branch. Committee five, and the Serampore and Jehanabad Branch Committees had three meetings each, The Branch Committees had very little business to transact, and consequently the number of meetings was small.

3. There was no increase or decrease in the mileage of either metalled or unmetalled roads.

4. The original works undertaken and completed and paid for during the year consisted of four masonry culverts on Road No. 81 from Goghat to Shambazar, and of four culverts on road No. 80 from Pursurah to Jehanabad.

5. All repairs entered in the budget estimate were undertaken, and were completed with the exception of repairs, amounting to Rs. 280, on road No. 32 from Mossat to Juggutbullubhpore. The District Engineer points out that while the average annual grant for repairs during the seven years from 1878-79 to 1884-85 amounted to Rs. 98,901, and the average annual value of work done and paid for during the cess year amounted to Rs. 84,605 or 85·54 per cent. of the grant, the grant in the year under report amounted to Rs. 81,790 and the value of work done and paid for to Rs. 80,248 or 98 per cent. of the grant.

6. The state of the culverts and bridges on the district roads is fairly satisfactory, but the condition of many of the roads both metalled and unmetalled has been the subject of complaint. This is probably due to a great measure to the wants of funds, the available income of the Committee not being sufficient to keep the large mileage of roads in existence in efficient and satisfactory repair. The system under which the work has been done and the small amount of supervision exercised by the District Engineer over the work of contractors were also to some extent the cause of the dissatisfaction felt in the condition of the roads. It is to be hoped that the District Board recently constituted will be more successful in these matters. To be so, however, they must have a new District Engineer.

7. The condition of the village roads, and the system under which they were maintained and repaired, and the work done was supervised and paid for remained unchanged. Very little new work was, however, done, as the sum available for this kind of roads was very small during the year under report.

8. The trees planted along the sides of the district roads were properly looked after and are now, in the case of most of the roads, in a very thriving condition.

9. The different clerical establishments under the Committee have generally speaking done their work satisfactorily. It was, however, discovered in the course of the year that the head clark of the Committee's office had been for a considerable time past misappropriating a sum of Rs. 30 which the Committee had been receiving monthly from the Municipal Commissioners of Hooghly and Chinsurah as rent of a part of the Committee's Office building which was occupied by the Municipal Commissioners for their Offices. On the discovery of the embezzlement, the entire amount defalcated was recovered from the culprit, and he was prosecuted and sentenced to 4 years' rigorous imprisonment. On appeal, the conviction was upheld by the High Court, but the sentence was reduced to one of imprisonment for three years. The District Engineer's work has not been satisfactory in my opinion. He is not energetic or active enough, and does not see to small matters himself. I consider that he is decidedly not the best man the District Board could get for the money and would recommend that he be not confirmed. I have arrived at this conclusion deliberately after three years' experience of his work.

SHYAMDHUN ROY,
for Vice-Chairman.

No. 93, dated Burdwan, the 16th May 1887.

From—E. V. WESTMACOTT, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Burdwan Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

WITH reference to section 179 of the Cess Act of 1880, I have the honour to submit herewith, in original, the annual reports and accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the Road Cess Funds of the several districts of this division for the cess year 1885-86.

2. The reports and accounts of the districts were received in this office on the dates noted below:—

Burdwan	21st January 1887.
Beerbhoom	3rd February ,,
Hooghly	9th ditto.
Midnapore	10th March ,,
Bancoorah	28th ditto.

but all of these had to be returned for correction and further explanation, and the revised accounts were received on the dates undernoted:—

Burdwan	19th March and 19th April 1887.
Hooghly	28th ditto and 28th ditto.
Beerbhoom	23rd March 1887.
Midnapore	14th April ,,
Bancoorah	7th May ,,

3. The total receipts of all the districts in the division for the cess year 1885-86, including balances on 1st October 1885, and sums under the heads, advances and deposits, amounted to Rs. 8,12,695, viz:—

	Rs.
Burdwan	1,93,029
Beerbhoom	1,17,878
Hooghly and Howrah	1,90,523
Midnapore	2,40,262
Bancoorah	71,002
Total ...	8,12,695

4. The net disbursements of the year (excluding advances and deposits, Rs. 84,136) amounted to Rs. 6,12,314, viz:—

	Rs.
Bancoorah	58,957
Beerbhoom	81,135
Hooghly and Howrah	1,33,522
Burdwan	1,62,841
Midnapore	1,75,859
Total ...	6,12,314

5. The available balance on 30th September 1886 aggregated Rs. 1,16,245, viz:—

	Rs.
Bancoorah	7,321
Beerbhoom	30,591
Hooghly and Howrah	21,527
Burdwan	16,004
Midnapore	40,802
Total ...	1,16,245

6. Attention has been given by every District Committee to arboriculture, the existing trees have been maintained in all the districts. New trees have been planted along road sides in the three districts of Burdwan, Beerbhoom and Midnapore; no new trees have been planted in Bancoorah and Hooghly districts.

7. Village roads in the districts of this Division have been maintained so far as funds permitted. I have very good reason to believe that much of the money shewn as spent on village roads has been frittered away on petty foot-paths for the internal communications of villages and not on roads to bring villages into communication with the main lines of district roads, and so with the outer world. It appears to me that the main lines should be completed first, and that it is premature to spend money on village roads till main or branch lines are brought into the neighbourhood of the villages.

8. Generally as a whole the roads of the division have been well maintained with the exception of those in the Hooghly district The District Road Committee of Hooghly report that for want of funds the condition of many of the roads both metalled and unmetalled is unsatisfactory, and that they are unable to do all that is necessary with their small income. I am of opinion that expenditure on the construction and maintenance of metalled roads has been much heavier than is warranted by the Road Cess income, and while benefiting certain localities generally in the neighbourhood of head-quarters of districts, has deprived other tracts of all benefit from the funds to which they contribute. In the district of Howrah the three southern thannahs of Bagnan, Shyampore and Oolooberia have no Road Cess roads, on account of the large amount spent on metalling, entirely within thirteen miles from the centre of the town of Howrah. The Road Cess funds are scarcely adequate to meet the district requirements in bridging and unmetalled roads, and where metalling is wanted, I am of opinion, that the cost should be provided by tolls, which, moreover, would secure a contribution from the mercantile classes, instead of expecting the land alone to pay for benefits which are enjoyed by all classes.

9. With the exception of the Hooghly District Engineer who is reported to have been wanting in energy, the District Engineers of all the districts of this division have during the year worked well.

LAND SALE NOTICES.

NOTICE is hereby given, under sections 6 and 13, Act XI of 1859, that the undermentioned estates or shares of estates in the district of Bhagulpore will be put up for sale at the Collector's office of that district on the 23rd August 1887, Tuesday, for arrears of revenue and other demands which, by the Regulations and Acts in force, are directed to be realised in the same manner as arrears of revenue.

When in columns 5, 7 and 9 of the appended statement it is stated that only a share is to be sold, a separate account is kept for such share, and the other share or shares in the estate are excluded from the sale :—

PROGRESS OF THE EDEN SANITARIUM, DARJEELING.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 9th August 1887.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the working of the Eden Sanitarium, Darjeeling, for the year 1886, and the reports for the three previous years.

The Eden Sanitarium had its origin in the following note recorded by Sir Ashley Eden, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, on 11th June 1881 :—

Now that the Tramway has been brought into Darjeeling, and that the Sanitarium is placed in direct and easy communication with Calcutta and with most of the civil stations of Bengal, and now that tea-planters from the unhealthy Dooars and the Terai can reach this station easily and without exposure in a few hours, the question of providing a good, well-organized European hospital for the comfortable reception of patients and convalescents from the plains, forces itself upon the consideration of Government.

I have already received representations regarding hospital accommodation for sick persons and convalescents connected with the Eastern Bengal Railway, the Northern Bengal Railway, and the Darjeeling Tramway; and it appears that if nothing else be done, some arrangement must at once be made, in communication with the Managers of those lines, for supplying a great and growing need of this sort. But as Darjeeling increases—and it is now increasing daily—we shall have to provide hospital accommodation for the permanent residents of the station and district. There are the tea-planters and their assistants scattered about all over the district, some of them placed in very unhealthy situations. Cases in which young men are brought in suffering from fever of a severe type for medical attendance are very common, and a difficulty is frequently found in providing them with accommodation during their illness. The hotels and boarding-houses are generally full, and a sick person is not always a welcome inmate in a public establishment of that sort; and it is feared that many useful men have lost their lives in the Dooars and the Terai, who would at once have come up for treatment if a comfortable hospital existed for their reception. Then, again, there are many cases of persons residing in outlying plantations, who desire attendance during their confinement, who can only obtain it at an enormous expense, altogether beyond their means, and who are not within reach of the Civil Surgeon, and cases are not unknown in which it has been found impossible to procure accommodation for such cases here on any terms.

But besides these there are frequent cases in the mofussil stations of persons pulled down after severe sickness or suffering from obstinate disease, who are unable to take the change to sea which richer persons could afford, but for whom a change and careful medical attendance are absolutely necessary. There are also persons who could undergo operations in the cool climate of the hills, which they could not bear in the heat of the plains. Lastly, there are patients convalescing in the Calcutta hospitals, to whom a change to a convalescent ward in Darjeeling would be of the utmost importance.

It therefore seems to me that as a European hospital has to be built, we should not keep in mind only the requirements of Darjeeling, but of the province generally. It will in the long run be a saving to Government if a number of its servants can be sent up here for a few weeks' treatment in a European climate, instead of having to take leave to Europe or to linger on in a condition of inefficiency from ill-health at stations in the plains.

The experiment of paying wards for first-class patients has been tried on a small scale in Darjeeling, as also in Calcutta, and with the greatest promise of success.

I think that the best plan of dealing with the matter will be by appointing a Committee to consider the whole subject—the site, the classes and quantity of accommodation, the rate of charges, the mode of admission, etc., etc.

I accordingly appoint the following gentlemen to be members of a Committee for this purpose:—

The Hon'ble A. Mackenzie, President.
Colonel Trevor.
The Deputy Commissioner of Darjeeling.
Mr. Martin
Dr. Birch.
Mr. Christie.

They should consult the present Hospital Committee, who have already given the subject their attention.

There are several sites which suggest themselves—

1. Vale Pleasant, which could at once be made available for the purpose. It has every advantage except that the houses are entirely out of repair. It has a bright look-out, and is near the Mall. There are three houses; one has seven rooms with ample bath-room accommodation, which could be made into a hospital for paying-patients of the first class.

Then there is one large ward in a separate building which would do for patients of the third class, who would be inmates of a general ward. It is airy, light, and has a teak-boarded floor; it would hold probably 14 or 16 beds at least. There is a row of little separate rooms attached to this, which would be very comfortable for second-class patients. And there is the Retreat, a very comfortable four-roomed cottage, which would be available for special cases requiring quiet, such as midwifery or operations.

This site, with the buildings, is, I believe, valued at Rs. 10,000, and I should be glad to transfer it to the Hospital Committee, and to make a grant towards its repair. Some of the buildings would require a new roofing, and a good deal is required in the way of repairs. Proper servants' quarters are required, and a room for the hospital assistant would also be necessary. But after inspecting the buildings, I am afraid that they are so much out of repair that practically they would have to be rebuilt; and if this is to be done, the money will be better spent in constructing an entirely new hospital, on the most improved principle, than in repairing and adapting old buildings—never a satisfactory process.

2. Then there is the Bhootea School site. A magnificent site might be secured by pulling down the old Post Office, now used as a Bhootea School, and cutting down the hill 12 or 14 feet. Upon this site a really good two-storied hospital might be constructed, capable of providing between 50 and 60 beds. Of these, about 15 or 16 probably should be separate rooms for Government officers and other first-class patients, 20 might be for second-class, and 20 for third class patients.

3. Then there is the site at the back, or at the south, of the Bengal Office; but this is perhaps bringing the hospital too much into the station.

4. There is a Government site at Lowland's Place; but this is perhaps too far down the hill and is not very accessible; otherwise it is a very fine site.

I have indicated above the various classes which would probably have to be accommodated. I should say that—

First-class patients should pay Rs 2 a day, making their own arrangements for diet

Second-class patients should be men and the families of men drawing, say, less than Rs. 300 a month in salary, or an equivalent income from other sources. The charge for them might be Rs. 3 a day including diet. They should have a ward to themselves, or rather two wards one for males, the other for females.

Third-class patients should be men of official or other incomes of less than Rs 100 a month. They should pay probably Rs. 1-4 a day including diet, on the scale of the General Hospital. They must be inmates of the general ward set apart for their sex.

When patients of the third class are servants of a State or Guaranteed Railway, or public company or of a public department, they should be received only on a guarantee that their cost at the fixed rate per diem will be paid or recovered by their employers or the head of the department, who will make arrangements for recovering it when necessary from the patient. Where convalescents of the third class are sent up from Calcutta by the public hospitals, the hospitals must be responsible for their fees here.

I leave, however, the rate of fee to be settled by the Committee, but have merely suggested these rates for their guidance.

It seems to me to be of great importance to give the scheme an immediate trial, and I am therefore willing to make a grant of Rs 2,000, which should enable the Hospital Committee to adapt the whole of the Police Hospital at once for the reception of European patients. The Executive Engineer could arrange for accommodating the few police patients there are elsewhere.

A proper establishment would have to be provided and eventually paid for by the Hospital Committee. I think a good English nurse or matron essential. A trustworthy woman could probably be induced to take the place in this climate on very favourable terms. If no one is available locally, the Ladies' Committee at Calcutta might find some one suited to the place. I do not wish the hospital to be a charity hospital. It should pay its expenses, the building having been once provided and equipped. I am disposed to give a grant from Provincial Services of Rs. 50,000 to Rs. 60 000 for the purpose of establishing the hospital provided such a hospital is erected as shall afford accommodation to invalids from all parts of the Lower Provinces For a merely local hospital, or for accommodation for the railway servants, I could not sanction more than half the amount. I gather from the Civil Surgeon that he thinks a considerable sum might be raised from subscription for such a useful purpose as this The fees should be so fixed that they afford a reasonable prospect of the hospital covering its expenses. Five or six first-class, five second-class, and twelve or fourteen third-class patients ought to cover every expense.

After the report of the Committee had been considered, the following Resolution was issued under Sir Ashley Eden's orders :—

In the note which is appended to this Resolution, the Lieutenant-Governor stated his reasons for thinking that Government should take measures to provide a European hospital at Darjeeling for the reception of patients and convalescents from the plains, and appointed a Committee * to examine the subject, and to submit proposals for carrying the scheme into effect. The Lieutenant-Governor expressed his willingness to make a grant from Provincial Services of Rs. 50,000 to Rs. 60,000 for the establishment of such a hospital as would afford accommodation to invalids from all parts of the Lower Provinces.

* Hon'ble A. Mackenzie, President.
Colonel Trevor, R. A.
The Deputy Commissioner of Darjeeling.
Mr. Martin, Superintending Engineer.
Dr. Birch, Civil Surgeon.
Mr. Christie, Executive Engineer.

2. The Committee, after careful consideration of the different sites available, recommended that the site of the Bhoteah School should be adopted. They have considered a rough plan of a two-storied hospital to accommodate 16 first class, 20 second-class, and 20 third class patients at an estimated cost of about Rs. 52,000, and they propose that the plans and estimates should be completed by the Public Works Department for submission to the Lieutenant-Governor They are of opinion that little difficulty would be found in raising public subscriptions to provide for the equipment of the hospital and the maintenance of the poorer classes of patients, and they recommend that measures should be taken to ascertain what assistance may be expected from the public.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor approves the suggestions put forward in the Committee's report. The Public Works Department will be requested to take measures at once to level the Bhoteah School site, demolishing the old buildings and cutting down the hill so as to secure sufficient space for a substantial structure of the dimensions proposed. Plans and estimates of the work should be prepared with as little delay as possible, and as soon as they have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, a special grant will be made of the amount required for the construction of the building. Meanwhile a grant of Rs. 2,000 is sanctioned to admit of the Police Hospital being at once adapted for the reception of European patients, so that accommodation may be available during the current season.

4. The Commissioner of the Division will be desired to submit suggestions regarding the constitution of the governing body of the new institution. It is necessary that a Committee should at once be formed with authority to receive subscriptions The Committee will also have to consider various questions connected with the administration of the hospital, and to submit, for the approval of Government, a scheme for its general management. As recommended in paragraph 8 of the Committee's report, the Chamber of Commerce, Calcutta, the Trades' Association, and the Agents of the East Indian and Eastern Bengal Railways, will be invited to say to what extent the Committee may expect donations for furniture now, and subscriptions for other purposes hereafter. The Surgeon General will be requested to ascertain to what extent advantage would probably be taken of the hospital by the different classes of patients, and to offer suggestions regarding the system under which the officers in charge of the metropolitan hospitals should be authorized to transfer patients to the Darjeeling Hospital.

2. A Committee of Management was subsequently appointed, and the building was commenced in November 1881, but owing to the delay on the part of the contractors, it was not ready for occupation till the 22nd April 1883, when it was formally thrown open to the public. Meanwhile a temporary hospital was opened in a building adjoining the municipal dispensary at Darjeeling, partly at the cost of Government and partly from funds raised by private subscription, and from the proceeds of a bazar held in Darjeeling during the Doorga Poojah holidays of 1880. The accommodation provided in the temporary hospital was of a very limited character, but so great was the demand for it that the public appreciation of such an institution was placed beyond doubt.

3. On the opening of the Sanitarium, several patients were transferred to it from the temporary hospital, which was then closed, and their number was largely added to by patients and convalescents from the plains, who were only awaiting the opening of the Sanitarium. The Sanitarium being an institution where only paying patients are received, and being, therefore, unlike any ordinary hospital, the rules of the institution are of a special character. A liberal provision in the rules is that in all cases where this is desired, a relative or attendant is admitted with the patient, and no restriction is put upon the stay of such relative or attendant.

4. The following statement shows the number of patients and their relatives and attendants admitted into the Sanitarium during the past four years :—

	1883.	1884.	1885.	1886.
Patients ...	88	153	192	273
Relatives and attendants ...	33	73	68	120
Total ...	121	226	260	393

Infants in arms, of whom several have been admitted, are not included in the above figures. The steady increase in the number of admissions is an indication of the growing popularity of the institution, and it is hoped that as the benefits which it is capable of conferring on invalids become generally known, it will be more largely resorted to. Patients come to the Sanitarium not only from all parts of the Lower Provinces of Bengal, but from Assam, the North-Western Provinces, Burmah, and the Straits Settlements.

5. Experience having shown that the Sanitarium is only required by the public from about the beginning of March to the end of November, this period has been constituted the working season of the institution. During the winter months, December, January, and February, the Sanitarium is practically closed to the public, and with the view to economy the establishment is reduced to a minimum. Admission is, however, not denied to patients at this season, and as a matter of fact there have been on an average three patients in the Sanitarium during the winter months in each of the past three years.

6 The daily average number of persons in the Sanitarium during the working season was 18·54 in 1883, 25·87 in 1884, 38·22 in 1885, and 28·96 in 1886. These figures vary according to the length of stay of the patients. Thus it is that though the total number of admissions in 1885 was less than in 1886, the daily average was greater. The average stay of each patient in the Sanitarium was 39·2 days in 1883, 31·20 days in 1884, 28·04 days in 1885, and 20·26 days in 1886. The average, though gradually lessened since 1883, is still high in comparison with the average stay of patients in hospitals in the plains. This, as explained by the Committee of Management, will always be the case, as the Sanitarium is more apt to get chronic cases such as phthisis, paralysis, general debility and anæmia, which require a lengthened stay in a good climate before any real improvement is effected. Many cases of phthisis have been treated at the Sanitarium, and in nearly every instance great benefit has been derived by the patients. Experience has shown that the climate of Darjeeling is specially suited to persons suffering from this complaint.

7. The following statement shows the number of patients treated at the Sanitarium during the last four years and the results :—

Year.	Patients treated.			Total.	Cured.	Relieved or improved.	Discharged or otherwise.	Died.	Remarks.
	Male.	Female.	Children.
1883	50	26	12	88	72	7	5	2	* Three of these were cases admitted in a moribund state.
1884	78	52	23	153	112	30	5	6
1885	106	56	28	192	132	44	8	9*
1886	129	87	57	273	220	43	5	6

This shows at a glance the benefit derived from the treatment at the Sanitarium. It speaks well for the institution that the average mortality has been only six in a year.

8. Of the three classes in the Sanitarium, the second is the most popular, judged from the results of the past four years, which are exhibited in the following table:—

Year.	1st class.	2nd class.	3rd class.
1883	44	41	37
1884	53	107	66
1885	24	107	69
1886	83	229	81

9. The Sanitarium is under the superintendence of the Civil Surgeon of Darjeeling, who is ex-officio a member of, and Secretary to, the Committee of Management. The several officers who have occupied this position since the opening of the Sanitarium have performed their work with zeal and ability, and have done much to promote the welfare of the institution. The Resident Medical Officer, Mr. J. G. Fleming, who has been connected with the institution since April 1883, is spoken of by the Committee in the highest possible terms. He has conducted the duties of his post with considerable skill and tact, and the success of the Sanitarium has been greatly due to the confidence which his presence has inspired in the patients.

10. By an arrangement made with the Sister Superior of the Lady Canning Home in Calcutta, two sisters of the Clewer community are attached to the Sanitarium during the working season in order to superintend the nursing and other domestic arrangements, in place of a matron. For want of funds the Committee have not yet been able to provide a permanent staff of under nurses for the Sanitarium, but nurses are engaged temporarily to attend any bad cases that may require special care. The services rendered by the sisters have invariably been acknowledged by the Committee in terms of approval and satisfaction.

11. The cost of the construction of the Sanitarium was borne by the Government of Bengal. The original estimate was for Rs. 1.30,000, but owing to certain necessary changes and additions it was increased to Rs. 1,67,752. Besides this, Government has provided the institution with surgical instruments, and for two years relieved it of all charge on account of European medicines. The general equipment and furnishing of the building was entrusted to the Committee of Management, and for the purpose of meeting the cost an appeal was made to the public to provide the necessary funds. This appeal was liberally responded to, and a sum of Rs. 23,750 was collected, nearly all of which was expended in the purchase of furniture. The Sanitarium is supported entirely by the receipts from the patients and by voluntary contributions. The financial position of the institution at the close of the year 1886 is shown in the following statements:—

It is a matter for regret that the subscriptions from firms and private individuals should show so considerable a falling off in the last two years, more especially as the want of funds is reported to have rendered it impossible for the Committee of Management to make any payment to the Superintendent, Dr. Mathew, for the very efficient services rendered by him during the past year, or even to discharge fully their liability to his predecessor.

13. The thanks of Government are due to the successive Committees of Management and Superintendents who have contributed to place the institution on a footing of such efficiency, and to merit for it so large a share of the public confidence.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the past
The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numb are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past station in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 12th August 1887.

CALCUTTA, the 16th August 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 12TH OF AUGUST 1887.

THE meteorological conditions prevailing over the province for the previous week were almost normal for the rainy season, and a fairly strong monsoon currenthad been blowing, which had given rise to good general rain. The two branches of the monsoon current had alternately increased and decreased in strength, and on the 5th the province was about equally influenced by the current blowing from the Bay of Bengal and by the Bombay monsoon current, and westerly winds from the Arabian Sea current were blowing in Chutia Nagpur and South Behar and over parts of South-West Bengal and Orissa. On the 6th the monsoon current blowing from the Bay of Bengal commenced to increase in strength, and the interaction between the two currents over the central parts of the province produced a distinct cyclonic circulation of winds over part of Behar, and also produced more or less disturbed weather generally over the province, and rather heavy and general rain was reported. On the following day there was a slight increase in the strength of the westerly monsoon current, but otherwise conditions were unaltered, and again rainfall was general, though the amounts received were rather irregular. On the 8th there was a distinct tendency to the formation of a cyclonic circulation of winds over the central parts of the province, and rainfall continued general in all districts, and also rather heavy, except in the south-western districts. Conditions remained practically unchanged on the 9th, and rainfall continued, and on the 10th a great decrease in the strength of the westerly current took place, and rather strong south-easterly and easterly winds prevailed at almost all stations. On this day also general rainfall was reported, and very heavy falls were received in some of the districts of North Bengal and North Behar. On the 11th similar conditions as to the direction and intensity of the monsoon current obtained, but the area of rainfall commenced distinctly to contract, and parts of the east and north of the province became to a great extent rainless. On the 12th the westerly element again commenced to make itself felt slightly, but it was evident that both branches of the monsoon had become decidedly weaker as rain-bearing currents, and on this day the area of rainfall again rapidly contracted, and the greater part of the province received little or no rain.

It will thus be seen that the meteorology of the week has again been of very simple nature, and that a good monsoon current has been blowing over the province throughout the week: first one branch of the current predominating, and then the other, but at the close of the week the two currents were rapidly decreasing in force as measured by the amount of rainfall received.

Pressure.—As is usual when the conditions of the atmosphere are nearly normal, the varations of pressure have been of a more or less oscillating nature, but, with the reduction in the strength of the monsoon current blowing over the province, these oscillations have had an upward tendency, and pressure at the close of the week was very decidedly above the normal. For the first two days pressure generally rose, it then fell for one or two days, and rose generally for the remainder of the week, and on the 12th the average pressure was decidedly more than a tenth of an inch in excess of the normal, and at some stations, such as Purneah and Durbhanga, the excess was larger than 0·17″. Taking only those stations into consideration from which observations have been received for a considerable number of years, and which therefore furnish reliable averages, the mean pressure of the whole province of Bengal for the week may be said to have been 0·058″ in excess of the normal, while the extreme variations are from an excess of 0·089″ at Durbhanga to about 0·04″ in the extreme west of the province. In Assam the mean pressure has also been in excess of the normal by 0·057″, and the smallest excess is at Silchar, where it equals 0·047″, and the largest at Sibsagar, where it is 0·067″.

Temperature—Variations during the week have been of little importance, but owing to the heavy rainfall the mean temperature has been below the normal in all districts. The largest defects are in North and South Behar and in Chutia Nagpur, where they range from 2° to 2½°; in North Bengal the defect is 1·1°, while in East and South-West Bengal and Orissa the defects are less than 1°. For the whole province of Bengal the mean temperature has been below the normal by 1·4°. In Assam also temperature has been below the normal by an average amount of 1·5°.

Rainfall.—The daily distribution of the rain has already been referred to, and with the general and rather heavy falls that have occurred, rainfall has been in excess of the normal over the greater part of the province. Compared with the normal fall for the period, and expressed as a percentage of this amount, the actual falls in each meteorological district will become in Orissa 85 per cent.; in South-West Bengal 105 per cent.; in East Bengal 95 per cent.; in North Bengal 109 per cent.; in North Behar 153 per cent.; in South Behar 126 per cent, and in Chutia Nagpur 159 per cent. Taking each of these districts to have an equal value in the calculation, the actual average rainfall of the whole province for the past week has equalled 119 per cent. of the normal. Taking up the rainfall more in detail, the following are the districts which have received very heavy rain, that is amounts largely in excess of the normal:—Bankoorah, Moorshedabad, Chittagong, Dinagepur, Rungpur, Purneah, North Bhagulpore, Durbhunga, Chumparun, Shahabad, Gya, Sonthal Pergunnahs Hazaribagh and Chyebassa; while the following have received decidedly defective falls:—Balasore, Midnapur, Burdwan, Burrisal, Furreedpur, Bogra, and Pubna.

A few very heavy falls have been reported during the week, and thus on the 10th, Darjeeling received 6 inches, and on the 7th Buxar in the Darjeeling hills district reported the excessive fall of 16·10 inches. At many stations falls in excess of three inches have been received on single days, while in several instances four and five inches have been recorded.

At the Assam stations the following are the amounts recorded during the week:—At Dhubri 5·61 inches, at Silchar 5·01 inches and at Sibsagar 4·65 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 12th of August 1887:—

OFFICE OF SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL,
The 15th August 1887.

R. LIDDERDALE, M.D.,
Deputy Surgeon-General, Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

THE table annexed to this memorandum indicates—

1. That during the week ending 30th July 1887, the birth and death-rates of the principal Municipalities in Bengal amounted to 21·9 and 39·1 per 1,000 of population, respectively, as opposed to 16·5 and 29·2 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 23rd July, showing a very considerable increase in the registration of both the events, notably of deaths.

2. That the following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Patna	68·1	Patna	124·0
Comillah	30·8	Gya	69·7

		Beauleah	34·1
		Purneah	31·1
		Midnapore	31·0
		Bhagulpore	30·8
		Serampore	29·4

3. That, contrasted with the results of the preceding week, it appears that there occurred much increase of mortality from fever, the diseases classed under the head of "Other causes" and bowel-complaints, in the order named; fractional increases in fatal results for cholera and injury; and no variation in fatality from small-pox :—

4. That while the following Municipalities exhibited conspicuously high mortality from cholera, fever and the maladies classed as "Other causes," in the rest of the Municipalities no noticeable severity from the other diseases, indicated above, occurred, excepting in Patna, where 13·3 per 1,000 of the population died from bowel-complaints :—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorised form of age classification.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during the month ended 30th June 1887.

INCREASES.

Coal and coke.—There was an increase in both upwards and downwards despatches; that in the former was due to demands by the Public and Foreign Railways. The downward increase may be ascribed to the facilities afforded by the new route over the Jubilee Bridge; a considerable quantity was despatched to stations on the Eastern Bengal State Railway and to Sealdah.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—The reason for the increase in this commodity is much the same as that given in previous reports, namely, full stocks at stations and high prices prevailing up-country.

Other rain and spring crops.—The increases were principally from stations on the Allahabad district to meet demands at Howrah and also local requirements.

Lac.—This increase can be accounted for in no other way than that the traffic in June 1886 was very poor.

Railway Material, Foreign.—Due to despatches from Howrah for the Oudh and Rohilkund and Indian Midland Railways, and from vid Jubbulpore for the latter system only.

DECREASES.

Cotton.—The cotton season closed at about the middle of May 1887, somewhat earlier than in 1886, hence this decrease.

Turmeric.—This small decrease may be attributed to competition by river steamers and to the diversion by the Bengal and North-Western Railway.

Piece-goods, European.—Due to slack demand, which is usual at this time of the year.

Wheat.—The decrease is attributable to a bad crop, sudden collapse in the home markets, and to dealers holding back for better prices.

Grain and Pulses.—The decrease was principally in the despatches from the Punjab owing to the produce being required for local consumption, and to heavy despatches from Cawnpore in 1886 to meet a demand in Calcutta partly for shipment to Madras.

Iron.—The decrease was due to a falling off in the despatches from Howrah, whence considerable quantities of machinery were sent to Cawnpore in 1886.

Opium.—Due to the arrangements made by the Government Opium Department.

Salt.—This decrease is assignable to the diversion from this system of the Sambhar salt by the Bombay Baroda and Central India Railway to Cawnpore.

Sugar, refined and unrefined.—There was an increase in the weight carried attended with a decrease in earnings, and this is due to the following causes:—

(1).—Better crops in the North Western Provinces.

(2).—Cheaper market rates up-country, which deterred sales of Shahabad produce.

(3).—A poor crop in the Shahabad district.

Tobacco.—This decrease is attributable to bad crops in Tirhoot.

Seeds.—Due to low prices quoted in Calcutta and stocks being kept back for a rise in the market prices.
